Foreign Ministers Battle Indicated On Trieste Issue

Soviet Seeks Fourteen Amendments To Paris-Approved Statute Of Trieste

FRENCH ATTITUDE NOT AS YET CLEAR

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(INS)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin visited U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes in the latter's apartment in the Waldorf-Astoria today at 10 a. m.

While neither diplomat made any announcement before retiring behind locked doors, there was little doubt that the representatives of the western democracies were drawing up joint battle lines for the big four foreign ministers meeting at 4 p. m.

Expected To Take Issue

Both Byrnes and Bevin are expected to take issue with 14 amendments offered yesterday by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in an effort to change radically the Paris-approved statute of Trieste. The attitude of France's representative at the big four round-table, Deputy Foreign Minister Couve de Murville, is less clearly defined in view of the recent French elections but it will be recalled that he personally sponsored and submitted to the Paris conference of 21 nations the draft subsequently given a two-thirds vote and therewith recommended to the council.

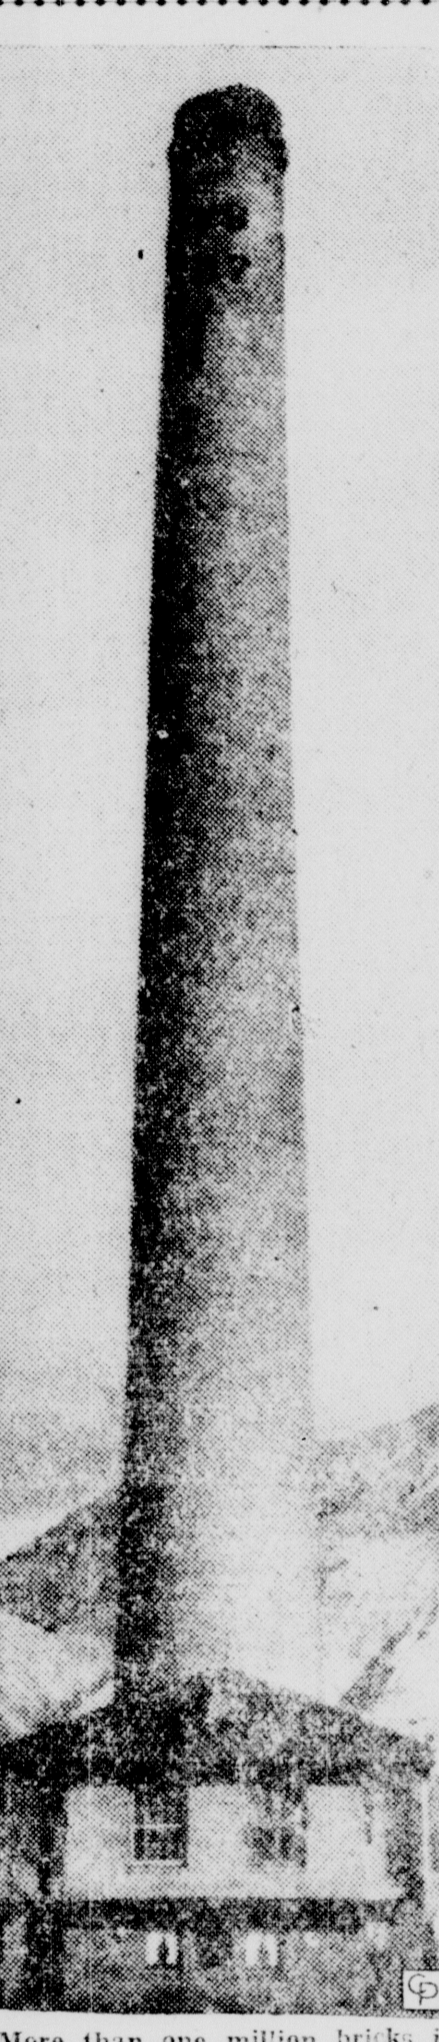

Fourteen Soviet Amendments

The 14 Soviet amendments, kept confidential until the three western ministers have studied them in detail, shifted discussion of the statute itself at the eighth meeting of the council yesterday back to the question of whether or not the Paris two-thirds vote is to be recognized as fundamentally valid.

American and British circles, and to some extent the French, again made it clear that they continue to recognize that vote as tantamount to a mandatory order to include the recommendation in the treaty. By introducing 14 new amendments, actually altering the concept of the statute, Molotov automatically reaffirmed his contrary viewpoint.

In the seventh meeting on Tuesday, Byrnes reiterated he had no objection to making some formal adjustments and changes in the statute whenever the big four are (Continued on Page Two)

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The house Republican leadership will name a study group today to look into the G. O. P.'s proposed 20 per cent "across the board" individual income tax cut as the first step toward official party endorsement of the program.

The house Republican steering committee prepared to name Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., to the chairmanship of the group. It will be instructed to complete the work and report back recommended legislation shortly after the house is organized by the incoming Republican majority in January.

Many Packages Going Overseas; Few To Soldiers

Record Volume Of Packages Handled Tuesday For Destitute In War Areas

YULE MAIL FOR SERVICE MEN LIGHT

As far as the Christmas mail for men in service overseas is concerned this year, it has been hardly noticeable. Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today, in warning local residents that Friday is the deadline on mail which can be sent to men in the armed forces abroad without a request.

However, the volume of packages being sent to people in the destitute war areas, reached a record high on Tuesday, when three clerks were needed to handle the sudden rush, and these men worked until nine o'clock that evening, completing the records which are necessary on this mail.

Long Line Of Mailers

All day long, there was a line of mailers in front of the parcel post windows, an extra window having been put into service for the rush, taking care of the packages containing clothing, food, and medical supplies which are now permitted.

Italy, Poland, Greece, and England seem to be getting the bulk of this mail, but there is also a liberal sprinkling of packages for Finland, Czech-Slovakia, Yugoslavia, France, Belgium, Holland, etc.

Coal Operators Ready To Enter New Conference

Awaited Government's Effort To Get Assent To Negotiations By Miners' Head

DEADLINE NEAR IN STRIKE THREAT

By PHILLIPS J. PECK (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Soft coal operators stood ready today to enter into new mine wage negotiations with John L. Lewis if the government can obtain the UMW president's assent to such talks and postponement of a threatened Nov. 20 strike of 400,000 miners.

A decision should be reached within 24 hours. Tomorrow is the deadline for the mine union leader to serve formal notice on the government of the walkout.

Hope For Private Contract

Bituminous mine owners, after a conference with Interior Secretary J. A. Krug, said the cabinet members expected reopening the industry-union talks looking toward a private contract which would permit release of the mines from federal control.

One operator said Krug proposed that the miners continue at work for a period of 30 to 60 days under an extension of the existing government-UMW contract negotiated last May when President Truman ordered seizure of the mines to end a 99-day strike.

The industry representative added:

"The operators expressed a willingness to resume negotiations. It is now up to Lewis. We don't know what his reaction will be."

It was understood that any new industry-union talks probably would require guarantees to Lewis that any subsequent wage adjustments be made retroactive to the start of the conference, despite traditional industry opposition on this score.

Krug Confers With Lewis

Krug conferred twice with the UMW president Wednesday, presumably outlining to him the proposal for renewal of collective bargaining between the parties to coal dispute.

Plan To Cut Army Navy Expenditures

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Rep. Cole of New York, ranking Republican member of the House Naval Affairs Committee, reported today that the administration is planning drastic reductions of 20 to 37 per cent in army and navy expenditures.

Cole, next in line for the committee chairmanship when the Republicans take over control of Congress January 3, said Secretary of the Navy Forrestal had revealed that the navy planned to reduce its budget to approximately four billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1947.

Would Be 20 Per Cent Cut

This would represent a 20 per cent slash in existing expenditures, estimated at about five billion dollars for the current fiscal year.

Cole told a reporter that he understood the navy planned to reduce its budget to approximately four billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1947.

G. O. P. Leaders To Meet To Survey Future Program

Lively Battle For Majority Leadership In House Is Now Indicated

By WILLIAM THEIS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—House and Senate Republicans steering committees convened today to survey the legislative course and the leadership the GOP hopes will carry it into the White House in 1948.

GOP chieftains, who will control the 90th Congress convening Jan. 3, emphasized that today's talks would at best be preliminary insofar as a formal program of legislation is concerned. Tomorrow the two committees meet in joint session.

Sen. Wallace White (R) Maine, who is indicated as the favorite for the job of Senate majority leader, urged that the Senate strategists concentrate first on "a few major legislative matters rather than try to draft a whole program."

To Name Committees

Similarly, the House group was expected to name subcommittee study such top program points as tax reduction, government economy and labor legislation.

U. S. Superfortress Damaged In Attack Over Luzon Field

MANILA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The Philippine department of the interior announced today that a machine-gun attack by unknown parties on a U. S. Army B-29 superfortress was under investigation.

The B-29 was said to have been flying in formation with other craft at an altitude of 15,000 feet over Luzon's Clark Field when it was struck and damaged by at least nine machine-gun slugs.

The report said the damaged B-29 was piloted by a Major Lyon of the Sixth Bomber group.

No one was injured.

Philippine officials said U. S. Army Air Force officers are investigating the incident and that it was generally believed that the shots were fired by a band of Central Luzon outlaws.

'Big Four' Attend Metropolitan Opera

By INEZ ROBB (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—At long last New York society, or what passes for it in this day and age, has seen everything.

It has beheld a Russian commiseration in the diamond horseshoe of its more sacred institution, the Metropolitan Opera House. What is more, Colossus V. M. Molotov, foreign minister of the U. S. R. R., did his beaming from the box once owned by the late J. P. Morgan, a box draped for the occasion in the red banner and the hammer and sickle of Russia.

The Old Met did not even rock under such impact last night on the occasion of the Met's welcoming, as its guests, the Big Four currently sitting as the council of foreign ministers in an effort to make peace for a caraphanous world.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa. New observed the first snow flurries of the year at 11:20 o'clock this morning. In previous years, snow has been reported many weeks before this, but due to the persistently warm weather of the past few weeks, snow did not arrive in the city.

Four hundred Rotarians from many localities are expected at New Wilmington tonight for the annual Buckwheat Rodeo, an event that has become one of the leading events in Rotary activities of the year in this area.

Pretzels are bird food, or so it seems. Pa. New noted some pigeons on Mercer street this morning enjoying a breakfast of pretzels, just dry salty pretzels.

In case you are not aware of the fact, two weeks from today will be Thanksgiving Day. The same date will be observed throughout the nation this year.

Old fashioned apple butter making is not entirely a lost art. Pa. New noted a group at work on a Western Pennsylvania farm recently, making apple butter in two huge iron kettles.

Missing Plane Being Hunted

Search Is Renewed For Western Air Lines Plane With Eleven Aboard

BURBANK, Calif., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Hampered for the second day by threatening weather, planes of the sheriff's department and Western Air Lines were scheduled to take the air today to renew the search for a missing airliner with 11 aboard.

The Western Air Lines ship, with eight passengers and three crew members, disappeared three minutes before it was due to land at Lockheed Air Terminal yesterday at the end of a flight from Salt Lake City.

Chief Pilot Garret J. Miller radioed at 3:37 a. m., for permission to land. He said that while he was flying through storm flurries there was no trouble. However, the dispatcher ordered him to land at the Los Angeles municipal airport because of the mountains.

Nothing was heard from the plane afterward.

All day yesterday Army planes from March field, the sheriff's department aerial squad, Western Air Lines craft and volunteers combed the mountains around the airport for wreckage of the craft but were unsuccessful.

Many streets were virtual torrents.

Make Demand Communist Be French Premier

(BULLETIN)

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The victorious French Communist party today served notice on the nation that a Communist must be named premier of France.

There was believed to be no doubt that the Communists will seek the post for their leader, Maurice Thorez.

Issue Communiqué

The political bureau of the Communist party held a meeting this morning and later issued a communiqué.

It also decided to propose to the National Council of the Socialist party, which meets on Nov. 17, the formation of a "Democratic" union government under leadership of a Communist.

Although the Communists won a slim majority of seats in the new national assembly in the recent general election, they cannot hope to form a new government without coalition.

The popular Republican movement, headed by Premier-President Georges Bidault, is the second strongest individual political party.

He is scheduled to depart for Key West Sunday morning.

New Storms Hit Long Beach Area In S. California

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Wind and rain lashed southern California anew today, bringing death to one man, driving many small boats ashore and flooding highways and residential areas.

Giant combers impelled by a 52-mile gale swept Donald Brookshire, 22, to death from the Los Angeles Harbor breakwater.

Along the coast from Santa Barbara to San Diego, dozens of fishing boats, motor cruisers and other small craft were driven ashore or capsized. Nineteen small craft were beached at Los Angeles harbor alone.

Long Beach was the hardest hit in the Los Angeles area. Storm waters flooded 150 trailers in a trailer park and a dozen odd homes and stores.

Thousands of Los Angeles area telephones were out of order.

Hail pelted sections of Pasadena, Hollywood, Culver City and Beverly Hills amid burst of lightning early today.

Probe Blast In Michigan School

One Pupil Killed, 16 Others And One Teacher Injured By Explosion

BARODA, Mich., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Two investigations were under way today into the boiler explosion at the Baroda Consolidated school which killed one student and injured 16 other pupils and one teacher.

Investigations were instituted by state police and the state fire marshal's office. They were expected to report in two days.

The explosion occurred shortly before noon yesterday, and Sheriff Erwin Kubath of Berrien County said only the newly-installed lunch schedule had kept the death and injured tolls at relatively low figures.

The sheriff said Mrs. Gus Jasper, of Stevensville, Mich., a teacher, led her 20 students from the room directly above the boiler less than five minutes before the terrific blast splintered the room.

Student Victim
The student killed was Walter Ruppel, 13, who died in a Benton Harbor hospital a few hours after the blast.

Officials advanced a theory that there was too much steam in the boiler, but withheld formal comment until completion of the investigations.

Eldon Nitz, 16, a high school senior at the school and the substitute fireman, was questioned by Prosecuting Attorney Karl Zick.

Nitz told authorities he had replaced his uncle, Leonard Nitz, as the fireman while the latter went deer hunting. He said his substitution was approved by the school board.

The youth told officials he checked the boiler an hour before the explosion and found the plant functioning properly.

pistache "The Marriage of Figaro".

They arrived in a flurry of motorcycle sirens, police, plain clothesmen and Russian guards, to be met in the foyer by the Met's suave general manager, Edward Johnson.

Johnson, wearing a white tie, top hat, boiled shirt, snowy gloves and a cane for a good measure.

Compared with the sartorial perfection of Johnson, the Messrs. Byrnes, Bevin and Couve de Murville were merely also-rans in dinner jackets.

Molotov and his constant companion, Russia's assistant foreign minister, Andrei Vishinsky, were practically in overalls since they came in their serviceable workaday clothes, double-breasted blue serge suits, worn with white shirts and dark ties.

Ovation Is Given
When the plush opera crowd, at the end of the first act, discovered the Big Four in the horseshoe, there was a pleasant, well-bred ovation.

Molotov, Byrnes and Bevin, seated behind the ladies in the box's second row of seats, stood up to acknowledge the applause.

While Byrnes and Bevin ambled and bowed to the crowd, Molotov waved vigorously like a hometown boy running for re-election.

Outside the box, a solid wall of plain clothesmen, standing shoulder to shoulder, guarded its international content.

The Met's invitation to the Big Four to visit backstage and see the Met's innards during the second act intermission was vetoed by secret service men after arrival at the Met.

It was said that the guards feared that the crush of enthusiastic people swirling around the box would make it difficult to get the party back-stage and return it to the box once more.

It was reported that Sec. Byrnes was willing to make the plan, but that security officers vetoed the plan, not the secretary's first experience with the veto.

man said the secretary probably would meet further with Lewis today.

In his conference with the mine owners, the interior chief brought them up, to date on the government's conversations with the UMW during the past two weeks and sketched Lewis' new demands for shorter hours without reduced earnings.

The operators left the meeting expecting to hear again from King before tomorrow's strike notice deadline. They were standing by today for further instructions.

King has made no secret of the fact that the government is anxious to get out of the coal business. The decontrol of prices and wages last week merely intensified this desire.

Mass., slated for the House speaker-ship, called this morning's steering committee meeting in the House.

This afternoon's Senate session was under the chairmanship of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio.

Harmony appeared to rule in the maneuvering for selection of a Senate majority leader. Taft was described as willing to support White, the present minority leader, for the new post.

House Scrap Looms
But a first rate scrap loomed in the House over the same job.

The House meeting brought into one room all three candidates for the majority leadership—Reps. Charles A. Halleck, of Indiana; Clarence J. Brown and Tom Jenkins, both of Ohio.

Halleck's friends said he was confident he had more than enough votes to be elected majority leader.

Halleck's friends said he was confident he had more than enough votes to be elected majority leader.

Brown, unannounced but with strong support, had this to say: "Despite this blitz thing, I find that it's not tied up at all. The big delegations and old timers are keeping their feet on the ground and nothing will be decided until we caucus on Jan. 2. I haven't announced my candidacy but I haven't taken myself out of consideration."

Jenkins, dean of the Ohio delegation, observed: "I'm not worrying about the other fellows. I'm in the race and working hard at it. But I'm not going to make a lot of fanciful claims."

The GOP policy-makers in both houses said they would discuss virtually all phases of their new-found responsibility.

derstood that army expenditures would be cut to five or six billion dollars, compared to the eight billion dollars now being spent, or a reduction of 25 to 37 per cent.

Cole also revealed: 1. He would urge Republican leaders to exempt the House Naval and Military Committees from the reorganization plan, which calls for their merger into a single committee on armed services.

2. He would recommend that House Republicans go on record in the new Congress as opposed to unification of the armed forces. No action was taken by the present Congress on Pres. Truman's request for merger.

3. He would fight as "false economy" any attempt by his own party to reduce naval expenditures for the next year to less than three and one-half to four billion dollars.

Cole stated: "I don't see how it can be cut any lower. Any reduction under that figure would seriously hamper naval strength. Any attempt to severely curtail military expenses at this time would be false economy. A large army and navy should be maintained at least until international conditions have become stabilized."

The War Department was expected to press a drive in Congress for unification of the armed forces as a means of reducing expenditures.

Police Seeking Stick-Up Pair

Railroad Man Robbed On Shenango River Bridge Near Seventh Ward Last Night

Police sought, but failed to find, two stick-up men who robbed Hazen C. McKenzie, Wabash avenue, a B. & O. R. R. car inspector of $8.40 while he was walking at 10:40 p. m. Wednesday across the Shenango river bridge, near the Seventh ward to work.

While one man pointed a revolver at the car inspector, the other robbed him of his money, following which, both fled toward the Seventh ward.

It was the second armed hold-up in the Seventh ward and vicinity within 48 hours. Rocco Fazio, Columbus club steward, the first victim, having been robbed of $360, and a revolver, in Orchard street, early Tuesday morning.

After McKenzie was held up and robbed, D. E. Florida, yardmaster of the west end yard, at the B. & O. R. R. telephoned to police. Lieutenant Jones and Cruiser Policeman Criswell sought the highway-men in the Seventh ward.

McKenzie told Florida, according to his report to police that he was walking across the Shenango river bridge between the B. & O. R. R. round-house and the Seventh ward when he was held up.

He said that both men had a dark complexion, were about five feet, eight inches tall. Both wore overalls and one of the men wore spectacles.

Chief of Police Robert Hanna ordered today that the men who robbed Fazio and McKenzie were not the same.

TO STUDY PROPOSALS FOR INCOME TAX CUT

sachusetts, other Republican leaders began to climb on the tax-reduction band wagon.

Rep. Brown (R) Ohio, a contender for the position of Republican floor leader in the new House, approved of the tax reduction scheme upon his return to the capitol. Brown added that two other programs must be carried out simultaneously—reduction of the present federal budget and the war-swollen national debt.

Knutson reacted coldly to reports that the "across-the-board" tax cut should be modified to give comparatively larger savings to individuals in the lower income brackets.

Straight 20 Per Cent Cut
He told newsmen that his bill, in its present form, would provide a straight 20 per cent tax savings to income taxpayers—that if a person paid $1,000 in taxes this year, he would have to pay $800 next year.

Knutson added that his measure did not change present exemptions, nor did it deal with corporation incomes.

It is known that President Truman is opposed to any tax slash at this time, with the possible exception of relief for lower income groups to offset increased costs of living. This may take the form of increased exemptions.

A study of treasury department statistics disclosed that an increase in personal exemptions for individual incomes up to $6,500 would bring a tangible measure of tax relief to all but about a million of the nation's 46 million who file income tax returns.

in unanimous agreement, but that the basic principles must be retained.

Although the specific amendments presented to the council were not made available, competent observers sitting in at the sessions said that the Russian proposals strike primarily at the powers of the Trieste governor given him in the draft statute.

Molotov has been a foe of the French-proposed statute draft from the beginning, sponsoring Yugoslavian demands that a popular assembly and powerful government of the free city supersede the governor in executive power.

INTERNATIONAL B.P.W.
TREASURER SPEAKER

Flags of the United Nations formed a colorful background for the November International Relations meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Wednesday evening in The Castleton. Mrs. Isabelle Claridge Taylor, of Philadelphia, treasurer of the International B. P. W. federation, addressed the club on "Women in World Affairs".

Let us look at the pages of the international scene and see, if, as good citizens, there is something we can do, was her opening thought. And let us put "first things first" as citizens, was the recurring note in her address.

Countries to which she referred both in regard to present conditions and to the status of the international federation's organization were Italy, France, England, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and New Zealand.

Her conclusion was that "We need better servants to the United States of America".

Mrs. Taylor was introduced by Mrs. Sara Sankey McCune, co-chairman of the International Relations committee of the New Castle B. P. W. club.

To open the program, Miss Alice Sterling, chairman of the committee in charge, presented Miss Lena Mae McConnell, whose vocal solo selections were "Will You Remember?" and "American Lullaby" with Miss Olive Webb as accompanist.

Pep singing during dinner was led by Mrs. James Van Gorder with Miss Webb at the piano.

More than 80 members and guests were present.

During business with Miss Mary Scherger presiding, reports on the district meeting in Ambridge in October were given by delegates Mrs. James L. Vogan, Mrs. Mabel H. Bolard, and Miss Helen V. Meyer.

It was announced that the spring district meeting will be held in Punxsutawney.

Executive board meeting will take place November 20 at 7:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A.

International Relations committee in charge of the program was Miss Alice Sterling, Miss Sara Sankey McCune, Mrs. R. L. Boyd, Miss Geraldine Fry, Miss Bess Gailey, Miss Louise Hunter, Miss Anna Leonhart, and Miss Evelyn Spencer.

December 11 is the date of the Christmas meeting of the club, the program to be in charge of the Music and Social Service committee.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Method Of Return To Local Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—If the speeches made during the late campaign on the theme of restoring local government were laid end to end, they would undoubtedly circle the solar system. When the cry in the incoming Republican Congress begins, we will hear a lot more on this same subject.

It brings to mind Mark Twain's comment about the weather. Everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything about it. Few orators ever venture to tell us how to cure the spreading evil of centralization. That is what gives point to a speech made in Philadelphia by David E. Lilienthal. It was Lilienthal's hail and farewell as chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, a post he has now given up to become chairman of this country's Atomic Energy Commission.

Speaking before the National Municipal League, Lilienthal denied that "big government" in Washington is inevitable. He pointed to the pattern employed under TVA to show that there is another way.

Under TVA Congress set the national policy. The act creating the Tennessee Valley provided for flood control, the restoration of soil, navigation and the sale of electric power. But in carrying out the mandate from Congress, TVA used local agencies of government.

"The TVA," Lilienthal said, "has by persistent effort delegated and decentralized its functions so that most of them are carried out not by Federal employees at all, but by local and state personnel. This is effected by scores of contracts setting up joint partnership between TVA and cities, towns, counties, state boards of health, state conservation commissions, city power boards, farmers' cooperatives, county extension services, state agricultural colleges, state geology departments—I could continue this list almost indefinitely."

In private utility systems, as Lilienthal pointed out, one company customarily generates, transmits and distributes electricity. In the Tennessee Valley, the TVA, a central agency, operates the generating plants and 6,000 miles of transmission lines that carry electricity over an area as large as Great Britain. But the power is distributed by 140 locally managed, locally financed distribution agencies.

This, in Lilienthal's view, is a distinction of major importance. Congress must and should determine national policy in a particular field. This does not mean, however, that administration of that policy must be on a nation-wide or centralized basis.

Since the TVA has turned responsibility over to local administration, states in the area have developed new resources for planning and development. In Tennessee and Alabama, the number of local planning commissions increased from 2 in 1935 to 35 in 1943. These commissions are helping people in the two states to take the most advantage of the new lakes and the recreation areas created by TVA. A rapidly developing tourist trade has sprung up around these assets.

Example To Follow
Here is an example for the Republicans to follow if they really want to decentralize government. It is a practical way to reach the goal almost every one agrees is desirable. The Federal government, which dispenses the money, can reserve the right to lay down certain standards on how the cities, the states, the counties and their subordinate agencies shall spend the money.

Talk of decentralization that goes very much further than this is largely wishful thinking. Since the age of the horse and buggy, the nation has been centralized—and not by the wish or the whim of any so-called bureaucrat. It has been centralized by the railroad, the motor car, the airplane, by corporations that leap over all local boundaries in their far-flung activities.

The kind of centralization took place long before the New Deal brought national laws on labor relations and social security. The practice was centralized, before 1933, in New York rather than in Washington. But it was centralized nevertheless and was exercised through a very narrow channel. To unscramble that kind of centralization—technical, financial—is obviously impossible.

The TVA is practical proof that you can pass administrative authority on to the community. Speaking in the northwest recently, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug proposed that the Columbia River Valley be developed under a similar regional agency, decentralized and autonomous, rather than under the direction of his department in Washington. Here is a way to get government back where it belongs—back in the local community.

One Man's Opinion

The Duke of Windsor is in town and he's the envy of the Democrats. Out of work and getting severance pay.

Henry Wallace says nothing can save us with the Republicans in power but he'll do his best to defend the old republic with the typewriters of the new republic.

Mr. Truman took the results quite calmly but Henry still is riding, standing up in the stirrups, coat tail flying out behind screaming "Run for the hills... the reactionaries are coming!"

Anyhow some progress is being made on housing. Several more conferences have been held in Washington and the story is that the only things now holding up low cost housing are high prices and lack of materials.

Or as happened in the case of the omelette... It would have been perfect if the cook had been able to find eggs.

A friend of mine asked a builder friend to give him a price on a house and the builder said: "I can give you two styles... a house worth four thousand for 10 or a house worth 10 for 20 and you're a sucker if you take either."

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

The wife of a small politician died recently.

Fifty automobiles carrying "mourners" followed the hearse to the church, and fifty-one cars loaded with 750 floral pieces, valued at more than $10,000, completed the cortege.

May the lady rest in peace. From what I hear she was a good woman, a simple woman of immigrant stock, a woman who was kindly and charitable.

I wonder whether she would have wanted ten thousand dollars worth of flowers and 101 automobiles to take her to eternity.

I wonder whether she would have preferred to have a hospital ward filled with that money, or something else more permanent and more useful done with the cash.

As I write this, those flowers have wilted and are thrown away. Many of those automobiles that followed her to the grave have since been used for other funerals—or gone to picnics and weddings.

You may notice that I put the word "mourners" in quotation marks.

How many of the occupants of the fifty cars were real mourners, how many were people who wanted to please the politician?

I hate ostentatious funerals. Pomp and display have never yet made anybody great.

To me there is nothing quite so private and so inextinguishable as death. It is the beginning of a journey on which each of us has to go alone, alone with his soul, alone with the record of his deeds, alone with his God.

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

We haven't, at our finger-tips, the complete report of all the churches and the collections taken last Sunday for the Community Chest... but we feel free in stating that one church was outstanding in the amount that was turned in. The Epworth Methodist Church had a grand total of sixty-five dollars. The one church that has been carrying the heaviest load for a great number of years... The church that has been in debt to the tune of over ninety thousand dollars... and who this year pledged to pay off that debt... dug down in their jeans and collected sixty-five dollars over and above their regular needs. That, to us, shows again... what spirit prevails in this community when a people make up their mind to do a job.

Some other churches gave very freely. For some of the smaller churches... it was just as difficult to scrape together ten dollars... in proportion to their debt and the need for current expenses. BUT... some of the churches with a large prosperous membership, we feel, were rather slight in their contributions.

Some folks will give the argument that they had already contributed at their office, home or factory. Sure... we did too... but the collection made last Sunday was not to take the place of your other contribution. It was in addition... it was to help make up that last bit of money that was needed to put the New Castle Community Chest over the top.

We know of one individual who gave around three hundred dollars at the beginning of the campaign... and who on Sunday last... dug down again. You say... well he could afford it... yes, maybe he could... but how about the man who gave a dollar during the campaign... many, many of them dug down again last Sunday... we saw that with our own eyes... some people have the spirit of cooperation and some haven't.

We believe that most of the citizens of this community have the right spirit... some take a little longer to display it than others, but it's there, down deep in their hearts... where it counts.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DISCIPLINING YOUNG SMOKER

Most parents wish their sons and daughters never smoked. Practically all parents certainly wish their children did not smoke until grown up. In spite of all the temptations facing the boy and girl to smoke and to begin smoking while in high school or much earlier some parents are so esteemed by their children and so wise in their ways of dealing with them that these children often do not choose to smoke until completion of high school or even during their lifetime.

Yet many other parents who are so very eager to keep their child from acquiring the smoking habit not only fail to do so but also impair their relationships with this child in their vain attempt.

A Mother Writes

Of her son, 13, a mother writes: "My husband and I have proof that, with other boys, he has taken to smoking when he gets a chance. I have had one talk with him about it in a friendly fashion pointing out the disadvantages of smoking and asking him to refrain from it until he is out of high school. He did not answer and the subject was dropped. Then I told him he'd not get another chance, but if I suspected again, we would punish him in such a severe manner that he'd never not having smoked. Now I would like advice as to what manner of punishment he deserves. This bothers me terribly. Please advise me as soon as possible. A self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed."

Punishment Not Effective

This is about the way I smoke the mother. You are wise to wish that your son will not smoke but your procedure is not good. You say you threatened him with punishment if "suspected again." Please don't punish him merely on the basis of suspicion. A court of justice wouldn't. Even if you actually caught him smoking, punishment hardly would be effective since you could not continue to do so without exception. Any sort of punishment will pretty surely cause him to be more secretive and deceptive. You see, if he really wants to smoke he can find easy ways to do so without your knowledge about it. Then his deception will be many times more poisonous to his spirit and moral stuff than the nicotine could be to his body.

Really, the big issue is not smoking but the relationship between that boy and his parents. Build up in all sorts of ways a lovely relationship with this son and then he, knowing how you feel about the smoking, will have a powerful urge to abide by your wishes.

Understand The Problem

In talking with your son again about the matter let him know you understand his problem. Don't be angry or excited over the matter. Never again threaten him, spy on him, or try to corner him. Don't even exact a promise of him not to smoke. He knows your wishes.

If he has had good training in the use of money and using an allowance the cost argument should appeal also to him. But how persuasive anything you say to him will depend on how calm and objective you are and the kind of feelings between you and this child that you have cultivated over the months and years. The foregoing principles apply to all sorts of problems related to the conduct of a growing child when not in your immediate presence.

Good Taste

USE OF NAPKIN RING

Question: Is the use of napkin rings permissible?

Answer: Those who can afford to supply three clean napkins a day to each member of the family need not need to this matter of economy, which is frowned on by the fastidious. But in many families where so much laundry would be either inconvenient or financially prohibitive, napkin rings are still used at family dinners. The ring should be removed before the napkin is placed on the table.

Question: When serving wine at dinner, whose glass should be filled first—that of the guest-of-honor or that of the hostess?

Answer: A thoughtful hostess should first be poured into the glass of the host or the hostess if there is no host. Then the guests should be served after which the waitress, in pouring into the host's glass, wine glasses should never be more than about three-quarters filled.

Question: Is it necessary for a woman to thank a man who gives her a spot in a street car?

Answer: Thank you is a small phrase with a large meaning. Do not be sparing in your use of it. Thank everyone for every little thing that is done for you. Thank the stranger who gives you directions on the street, and the man who gives you a seat in a street car. No matter what small courtesy is done for you, do not forget your "thank you" in return. It is always appreciated and it is usually expected.

Question: During a toast should the person toasted drink also?

Answer: No. Everyone else present stands and drinks to the person toasted who remains seated and does not drink. It is then customary for him to rise and say a few words in acknowledgement or offer a return toast.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Lilienthal Popular As Atom Control Chairman
Behind Scenes Battle 'Twixt Braden, Messersmith
U. S. M. P.'s Take No Chances In Germany

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—As the five men who will manage the nation's monopoly on atomic energy begin to take hold of their all-important jobs, it appears probable that at least for the present there will be no political opposition to their appointments.

Selection of David Lilienthal as chairman seemed to have been generally acceptable. While extreme left wingers regard him as an internationalist, Lilienthal has taken a hard-headed view of the international aspects of nuclear energy as a weapon.

He speaks he has said flatly that agreements to "outlaw" atomic warfare are worthless. Likewise, he sees iron curtains in the world as preventing inspections of the various nations' peaceful applications of atomic energy from safeguarding against secret conversions to war purposes.

The atomic chief declared that only an international body, with a full authority world monopoly on atomic energy, sources of material and processing facilities, can save the world for future atomic war.

On domestic politics, Lilienthal is expected, even by those who have not approved the principles involved in the Tennessee Valley Authority, to do a good administrative job.

As chief of the TVA, Lilienthal has been on a tight rope, with the enmity of smart, able Senator Kenneth McKellar (D) of Tennessee, as an ever-present threat to trip him up if he took an awkward step. If anyone can manage the nation's atomic monopoly without getting in trouble with private industry and Congress, sure-footed David Lilienthal would seem most likely to succeed.

State department observers are watching a behind-the-scenes conflict between Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden, former "tough" United States ambassador to Argentina, and the present ambassador, George Messersmith.

Messersmith favors a minimum of compliance from the Peron regime in its commitments to string along with other American republics. Braden wants almost complete compliance.

An early determination of the struggle is expected and newsmen are waiting for it to break.

Pinello H. LaGuardia, director of UNRRA, is the current subject of un-poking among Agriculture department employees in view of "Butch's" recent statement to a news conference that UNRRA is shipping mules to Yugoslavia for breeding purposes.

Better biologists than Butch immediately pointed up with delight the irretrievable fact that mules are hybrid and cannot breed.

A Detroit newspaper editorial on the subject was circulated among employers to add to the merriment, particularly this "belly laugh" paragraph:

"It just goes to show that an

THE BRAIN

Oh to me my father said:
"You're a brain within your head,
And I beg you to remember
It's for use in times of doubt
Its chief purpose is to cope with
All the problems you must grope
With."

So don't ever rashly answer
Till you've thought the matter out.
It's fashioned to contain
All that's known to human knowledge.

All the memories of the years,
And the sense that lies within it,
Can be called on in a minute.
If you'll only stop to use it,
When the need for it appears."

I have blundered. Who has not?
For so often I've forgot
What my father tried to teach me,
And I've tried to teach my son.
Into trouble I've gone
When I've acted without thinking,
And I've paid with bitter sorrow
For the foolish things I've done,

The World and the Mud Puddles

IS C. I. O.-P. A. C. COMMUNIST?

Any citizen has a right to be a Communist. He has the right to any opinion that is not subversive of the nation. The Communist, while he has the right to talk about the beauties of Communism, has not the right to join with his fellow Communists in an effort to overthrow the government of the United States by force, if necessary.

New Castle people will remember William Z. Foster, who was the prime labor agitator when he came to the attention of New Castle people. Now he is older, but he is still a great agitator and is considered the heart of the Communist Party in this country.

He was examined before a Congressional Investigation Committee and I quote some of that examination from the Congressional Record:

The Chairman: "Mr. Foster, does your party advocate the destruction of religious belief?"

Mr. Foster: "Our party considers religion to be the opiate of the people, as Marx has stated, and we carry on propaganda for the liquidation of these prejudices among the workers."

The Chairman: "And now loyalty to our country. If I understand you, Mr. Foster, the workers of America look on the Soviet flag as their flag?"

Mr. Foster: "The workers of this country and the workers of every country have only one flag. That is the Red flag."

The Chairman: "Mr. Foster, do you owe allegiance to the American flag? Does the Communist Party owe allegiance to the American flag?"

Mr. Foster: "I have stated very clearly that the Red flag is the flag of the revolutionary class and all capitalist flags are the flags of the capitalist class, and we owe no allegiance to them."

In other words, Mr. Foster not being able to find any flag that suits his views of government seizes the Red flag and admits that he owes allegiance to that flag. And that flag has only to bear the emblem of the sickle and the hammer to identify it as the Russian flag—as the flag of the Soviets. And from Moscow there was beamed by radio a request urging the people of the United States to vote at our Congressional election only for the candidates supported by the C. I. O. and the Political Action Committee—the P. A. C.

Overseas Wacs Asking Santa For Dress Materials

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(INS.)—Overseas WACs asked Santa Claus Wednesday to roll out his bolts of dress materials for their Christmas gifts.

It was explained that they want to make their own clothes in order to look like "dolly wags" now that civilian dresses are authorized for off-duty pursuits. Disclosure that members of the Women's Army Corps serving in theaters abroad have turned dressmaker in anticipation of receiving "yards and yards" of pretty materials was made by WAC headquarters. An officer said, "The post exchanges furnish little in the line of material. She disclosed that the dress designing women also want to find exotic cosmetics in their Christmas stockings. They can buy the ordinary shades overseas. Christmas shoppers were tipped off that costume jewelry will be welcomed too. You would also win the gratitude of your favorite soldier girl by sending her a gift subscription of a magazine she likes.

HIGHLAND CHURCH'S THANKOFFERING TEA

Missionary societies of Highland U. P. church observed their yearly thank offering service Wednesday evening with a fitting program in the church. Mrs. F. R. Fehl who presided conducted the opening devotional period.

Mrs. Fehl presented Dr. T. J. McFate, one of the trustees of Knoxville College, who introduced Dr. William Lloyd Imes, president of Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn. Dr. Imes told of the three phases in which he had been touched by Knoxville College, as a pupil in the kindergarten of the practice school, a student in the college and now executive of the institution. Members of the school's faculty are almost equally numbered between the black and white races.

Dr. Imes closed his talk by having the audience sing the Negro spiritual, "We Are Climbing Jacob's Ladder", with the speaker as accompanist. Dr. D. L. Ferguson and Sam Lewis, accompanied by Mrs. Jay L. Reed, sang "Hope In God" and "Whiter Than Snow" as duets.

Mrs. D. L. Ferguson gave the offertory prayer, while girls of Highland King's Daughters acted as ushers when the thank offering was received. Council Hopes To Retain Millage

Mayor and Councilmen Discuss Budget Plans—Millage Rate This Year Is 13

NEW FIRE TRUCK BEING SECURED

Although Mayor John F. Haven and councilmen colleagues have given consideration to next year's governmental expense, they have as yet arrived at no definite decisions. However, the fact remains, according to Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland, that every effort will be made in estimating 1947 expenses, to maintain the present millage, which is 13, or the same as that of several years past.

Director of Safety David O. Davies reported that Fire Chief James E. Thomas and Motor Mechanic Chris Walker, have gone to Chicago, to have a chassis outfitted completely for fire fighting purposes. The chassis and the pumping equipment will cost about $5,000, or less than a complete unit was ordered elsewhere. He said that because of the city's policy of purchasing chassis and having them equipped considerably saving to taxpayers was accomplished over a span of years.

Manufacturers Light & Heat company have been granted permission by the city to build a new gas line from Mahoning Avenue, up the old River road on the west bank across the Shenango river at the Old Gardner avenue bridge to the east side of the river.

Father's Funeral In Pittsburgh Friday

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Boughner, Jr., of 462 Croton Avenue, will go to Pittsburgh, Friday, to attend the funeral of the former's father, A. B. Boughner, Sr.

Mr. Boughner, Sr., a retired newspaper man, who died on Tuesday at the age of 83, after a heart attack, attended West Virginia University and after leaving there, began work on the old Pittsburgh Post. He also worked on the New York Times and Philadelphia Public Ledger and for a time served as editor on the York, Pa. Dispatch and the old Johnstown Leader.

Returning with the Pittsburgh Post, he remained there through its merger with the Gazette until 1930, when he began publicly work for the state. He retired in 1934.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ethel Deems of Baltimore, a daughter, Mrs. William Smith of Washington, D.C., and three sons, Dr. Daniel Boughner of Northbrook, Ill.; University, Evanston, Ill.; A. B. Boughner, Jr., New Castle and J. V. Boughner, of Pittsburgh.

Patent Granted To New Castle Man

Louis D. Garratt Of This City And
George A. Breene Of Emlenton
Have New Process

On November 5, 1946, the United States Patent Office granted patent No. 2,410,422 on "Glassmaking Machinery" to Louis D. Garratt of New Castle, and to George A. Breene of Emlenton, Pa.

This invention relates to improvements in molds used in glass-making machinery. In the molding of glass the blanks used in the making of articles such as bottles are usually made in block molds, the size of whose cavities depends upon the final product to be produced. These molds are generally made of grey cast iron and their cavities must have highly polished surfaces. However, under present practices, these surfaces accumulate layers of dirt and carbon which make their imprint on the finished glass and which cause the glass blank to stick in the mold. It is necessary to clean these molds with abrasives every six to 18 hours, and it is evident that such cleaning raises labor costs and gradually increases the size of the cavity, so that the molds use increasingly large quantities of glass for a given product.

Mr. Garratt's invention provides a novel method for removing these difficulties and disadvantages. By means of a novel mechanism to inject graphite into the mold cavity his improvement does away with the accumulations of harmful materials on the face of the mold cavity. The finished product is always uniform, and labor and material costs are reduced considerably because the molds may be used continuously without the interruptions and damage caused by the frequent removing and cleaning of the molds.

Seeks To Locate UN Home Site In Delaware Valley

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Robert Gray Taylor of Media, Pa., who is striving to convince United Nations delegates that the permanent home of the UN should be located in Delaware Valley, Pa., said Wednesday that Sen. Taylor said he rode from Lake Success to New York with Sen. Connally last night. He issued a statement in which he quoted Connally as saying that the Pennsylvania site is the "most appropriate site in America" and that he (Connally) was "for it."

Sen. Connally was not available for comment.

Taylor is chairman of the Delaware Valley association for United Nations headquarters.

Plan To Probe Abuses Of Immigration Laws

DETROIT, Nov. 14.—The House Immigration committee will begin next Monday a far-reaching inquiry into reports of widespread abuse of immigration laws and regulations, Representative John Lesinski (D. Mich.), committee chairman, said Tuesday.

The probe here probably will require three weeks, Lesinski said, Windsor, Ont., is across the Detroit river.

One of the chief aims of the investigation will be to uncover alleged "leaks" which are permitting illegal entry of Communists and other undesirable into the United States, the congressman said.

Expect Duff To Outline Policies

State's Newly Elected Legislators And Assemblymen To Attend Convention Today

G. O. P. WOMEN ARE NOW ASSEMBLED

By SUZANNE FLICK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—Governor-elect James H. Duff was expected to outline his administrative goals to the climax of the victory convention staged in Harrisburg by the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

Planking Duff on the speakers' platform of the forum in the state Education building will be the state's 34 newly elected state GOP senators and 171 Republican House members, making an unprecedented appearance at an annual council meeting. Congressman-elect John Davis Lodge, of Connecticut, and Louis Bromfield, noted author and conservationist, were scheduled to speak.

Define Party's Intent

Four members of the GOP's 28-member congressional delegation defined the party's legislative intent last night.

Congressman Samuel McConnell, of Penn. Wayne, a member of the House Labor committee, indicated efforts may be made to alter the Wagner act to define clearly "unfair labor practices."

"We now know the weak points and the strong points of the Wagner act," he said. "Undoubtedly changes are to be made."

The problem could be met by amending the bill or writing a new simplified law incorporating "the strong points and leaving out the weak ones," McConnell said.

It had not been decided whether arbitration should be voluntary or compulsory, he added, and whether penalties should be imposed on strikers and benefits offered to encourage labor peace.

"The root of much labor-management trouble can be found in the fiscal policies of this government," McConnell asserted, "and we are pledged to change them."

End Wild-Spend Spending

Congressman Hugh D. Scott, of Philadelphia, elected last week for a third time, called for a "far-reaching foreign policy to preserve the peace" as the keynote of a veterans program.

Congressman Leon Gavin, of Oil City, forecast an end of "loose, wild-eyed spending schemes" in Washington.

Congressman Richard F. Simpson, of Huntington, predicted Pennsylvania GOP congressmen would be "closely united" and would assume a position of leadership during the 80th session.

Decentralization of government was called for by Gov. Edward Martin, U. S. senator-elect.

"Too much government destroys human initiative," he declared. "Overlapping and duplication of government is expensive. The work of the three levels of government should be clearly defined to avoid duplication of effort."

He defended the party's attack on Communism, one of the chief campaign issues, and pledged a continuing fight against "those who would destroy America."

Communists' Issue
"We were criticized in the campaign because we made Communism an issue," he said. "It was an issue and still is an issue and will be as long as certain groups throughout the world want to destroy America."

Earlier, Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Lavenood, Jr., warned that the GOP victory placed the party "on trial." Secretary of Forests and Waters James A. Kell listed stream clearance and flood control among vital programs to be pushed.

The council was scheduled to install officers prior to adjournment. All incumbents have been re-elected. Mrs. Meade D. Detweiler, Jr., of Harrisburg, is president.

Scientists Now Make Own Weather

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 14.—(INS)—General Electric scientists gave a related lie today to no less eminent an American than the late Mark Twain.

The famed author once said that

"Everybody talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it."

On the contrary, G. E. scientists demonstrated their ability to make their own kind of weather when they flew over a three-mile long cloud, dumped dry-ice pellets into it, and precipitated a clearly visible snowstorm over Western Massachusetts.

Dramatic potentialities resulting from the technique include the possibility that man, for the first time, may be able to make rain when and where it is needed.

MAKES CLEAN HOPS

YAKIMA, Wash.—William Gamasche, Yakima Valley hop grower, has perfected a "jigger" which cleans hops and makes it possible for hop crops in the United States to go to market as clean or cleaner than those in European countries.

Harvard Man Stirs Protest

Professor's Advice To Girls
To Marry Fat Men
Brings Storm Of Argument

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Harvard University Professor Ernest A. Hooton was the fat man's friend today.

But the fat men seemed to be the only friends the prominent anthropologist has.

A storm of protest broke about his head as a result of his advice to young ladies to marry fat men as the "butter ball" type make the best husbands.

Romantic girls replied to the professor with the advice he should go back to his skeletons.

Mothers who married the thin—"poetic" types and the athletic "bone and muscle" types also were aligned against him. Then men of greater Boston also joined in the protests.

Long, Lean And Lanky

A leader in the latter group was school committeeman Michael J. Ward, long, lean and lanky. Ward said:

"Hooton's wrong, thin men make the best husbands because they feed the family first, not themselves."

Another who thought the professor was wrong was Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, wife of the United States Senator from Massachusetts. She declared:

"From personal experience, I would say thin men make very delightful husbands. I have proof in my own husband."

Professor Hooton in defense announced:

"I am not short. I am not fat. I am thin. Please, please, let this be the end."

Mrs. Hooton put in a few words for the professor. She approves of him she said, he has an interesting professor—and "besides he is tall and thin."

Fugitive From
Chain Gang Faces
Draft Accusations

KENNEBUNK, Me., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Albert C. Faunce was being held today in Cumberland county jail awaiting federal grand jury investigation of his alleged failure to register for selective service because of fear it would reveal his escape from a Georgia chain gang.

Authorities said Faunce admitted escaping from the chain gang, but claimed he was innocent of the robbery for which he had been sentenced. After his escape in 1941 he came to Boston where, officials said, he met and married pretty Katherine "Kay" Dierksen, Newton, a nurse at Deaconess hospital, after a week's courtship.

Authorities said Faunce adopted the name "Albert Gordon" since his escape and that he was married and worked as a house painter.

Georgia authorities have been notified of his arrest, but Faunce told officials he would fight extradition because he said he "wouldn't be given a chance in Georgia."

Paul Ministers To The Thessalonians

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

St. Paul preaching to the Thessalonians.
"Be not weary in well-doing."—II Thessalonians 3:13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for November 17 is Acts 17:1-11; I Thessalonians 1:2, 4:13-18; II Thessalonians 3:7-13, the Memory Verse being II Thessalonians 3:13, "Be not weary in well-doing.")

"Now when they had passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica," which was then a great city and still is today, now being known as Saloniki. There was a Jewish synagogue in Thessalonica, so Paul, as was his custom, went there to preach on the Sabbath and continued for three days, "reasoning with them out of the scriptures."

"Some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few."

There were those who refused to believe what Paul preached, and these were envious of the interest Paul and his companions created by their teaching, and those "of the baser sort" gathered a company together and "set all the city in an uproar and assaulted the house of Jason, and sought to bring them (Paul and Silas) out to the people."

You remember that before coming to Thessalonica, Paul and Silas had been beaten and imprisoned, but an earthquake had set them free, and their jailer had been converted. The Thessalonian mob "drew Jason and certain brethren into the rulers of the city, crying, 'These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also: Whom Jason hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus.'"

Treason Charged

Under the Roman emperors it was high treason to violate the majesty of the state. It was the charge hurled by tyrannical emperors to death. The men who opposed at those they wished to be posed this new teaching used the accusation artfully. However, the rulers, while troubled by it, took the mildest step possible to their own safety. They "bound the accused over in security that peace should be kept" or as St. Luke tells us in Acts, "when they had taken security of Jason, and of the others, they let them go."

That night Paul and Silas left Thessalonica and went to Berea. Luke says, "the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas." They were not obliged to go, but the safety of the Christians at Thessalonica would be in danger if they stayed.

There is no mention of a Christian church in Berea, but Paul and Silas went to the synagogue of the Jews and taught there, and "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so."

Paul mentions no church in Berea in his writings, but there may have been one, nevertheless.

Will Call Grew In Tokyo Trials

Prosecution Will Call Former Ambassador To Japan To Give Testimony At Trials

TOKYO, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The prosecution staff today agreed to try to call Joseph C. Grew, former U. S. ambassador to Japan, to testify personally before the international war crimes tribunal in Tokyo.

Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan at first asserted Grew was physically unable to appear, then agreed to invite the former ambassador after defense attorney Franklin D. Warren said Grew appeared well enough when interviewed recently in Washington, D. C.

Two affidavits made by Grew already have been submitted to the tribunal, but Warren recently brought back a third statement in which Grew absolved three of the 27 Japanese wartime leaders of any war conspiracy.

In Different Light

Warren asserted direct questioning of Grew would place the affidavits in a different light. The third affidavit is to be submitted during the defense phase of the war crimes trial. In it Grew said three of those on trial had opposed war and named them as Ex-Premiers Kichiro Hiranuma and Koki Hirota and Ex-Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu.

Meantime, a prosecution witness told the tribunal he knew the contents of the "triple priority" cable from the late President Roosevelt to Emperor Hirohito between four and six p. m. Dec. 7, 1941 (Tokyo time) although it was not delivered to Grew until nine p. m. The Pearl Harbor attack took place at three a. m. (Tokyo time) the following morning.

New Communist Offensive Starts In China, Report

Chiang Kai-Shek's Cease Fire Order
Apparently Goes Into Complete Disregard

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEIPING, Nov. 14.—Chiang Kai-Shek's cease-fire order apparently went into complete disregard today under the impact of a reported new Communist offensive unleashed towards the vital Manchurian railway and industrial center of Changchun.

Chinese press dispatches stated the northern front had exploded into action after months of relative inactivity.

The independent newspaper Hsin Min Pao reported Red columns driving on Changchun were aiming at the capture of Halahai 51 miles north of Changchun, and Fulingchuan, 43 miles northwest of the important central Manchuria metropolis.

The Yenan radio said full-scale mobilization is underway in the Chenst-Kansu-Ninghsia border region to fend off a Nationalist offensive aimed at capturing Yenan capital of Red China.

Women Organized

The broadcast stated women are being organized into auxiliary service units in support of regular Communist troops and that the local militia units are being made ready for an expected attack on Yenan.

Neutral observers in Peiping regard the threatened Nationalist drive on Yenan as very probable in view of the rapid deterioration of peace negotiations in Nanking.

Government sources, meantime reported the complete reopening of the Tatung-Puchow railway in northwest China. In southern Shansi province, troops of General Yen Hsi Shan, driving south along a rail line, were said to have linked up with a column commanded by Gen. Hu Tsung Nan, 86 miles south of the provincial capital city of Taiyuan.

The neutral newspaper Shih Chieh Pao reported a heavy Communist attack on Anchui, 63 miles northwest of the U. S. Marine garrison at Tsingtao. Fighting also was said to have flared anew in eastern Shantung province, and along the Peiping-Hankow railway near Paoting in northern Hopei province.

Seabees' Mascot, Aged Nine, Cured Of Spinal Ailment

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Nine-year-old Seabee Mascot Jimmy Carrick is coming home in a few months to Mt. Washington to romp and play to his heart's content.

The surgeons at the Shriners' hospital in Philadelphia have assured his mother, Mrs. Margaret Carrick, that her son will walk again in the spring and the spinal ailment that has kept him on his back seven years has been conquered.

Months ago they took young Jimmy, the popular mascot of the navy's Seabees, on a stretcher to the Quaker City hospital, where he has undergone a series of operations, the last of which was scored a success this week. Friendly Seabees, who surrounded his bed that day, heard him cheerfully explain: "You guys won your war, now I've won mine."

"Gee, I'm happy."
The Carrick household has scheduled a springtime Christmas with a tree and all the trimmings and presents, which will be highlighted, of course, by Jimmy's special request, a puppy to romp with—one which just won't tire out.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM BARON

To Mr. and Mrs. Buying Public and Family!

Subject: What's Going to Happen to Prices?

The OPA which fought the battle of inflation on the home front has been almost completely discharged from further active service.

Now the "lid is off"—the factors of supply and demand which adjusted our prices in the pre-war period will again go into operation. We here at Baron's do not know how long it will take for prices to adjust themselves. If we did we wouldn't be in the hardware business—we would be economists. We do know, however, what will happen to prices at Baron's.

In keeping with our now famous policy of over 23 years, Baron's will continue to offer its merchandise at the LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES. We pledge to exert every effort to maintain this policy. And at Baron's "Can Do" is a watchword.

Herriot Looms As Possibility To Lead France

'Grand Old Man' Of Politics May Be Compromise Candidate
For Presidency

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Edouard Herriot, "grand old man" of French politics, may become the next president of France.

That view was held by a number of informed political observers following the French general election of a few days ago in which the Communist emerged as the strongest single political party.

But although the Communists displaced Premier-President Georges Bidault's Popular Republicans (MRP) as the strongest party, even the most optimistic left-wing observers did not believe they could form a government without benefit of coalition.

Herriot, who is 74, has been active in French politics since 1912. He has twice been premier of France and twice president of the Chamber of Deputies. He is, and has been for many years, leader of the Radical Socialists.

Since a compromise candidate seems indicated, Herriot may be the man on whom both left and right can agree, particularly if the Radical Socialists join the Communists and MRP to form a tripartite or national union government.

RHEUMATIC FEVER

Rheumatic Fever is a killer and acribler of our young people. It causes over four times as many deaths among our children as do whooping cough, measles, meningitis, diphtheria, scarlet fever and infantile paralysis all together.

Aside from all these deaths it causes untold misery and suffering. The victims of this disease are much worse off usually than those who are crippled from infantile paralysis.

It is not a very spectacular disease. It does not seem to have a very popular appeal. It does not cause any particular excitement in a community.

There may be a dozen cases of rheumatic fever in a community but they do not cause as much anxiety as one case of diphtheria or infantile paralysis.

For diphtheria we have both prevention and cure. For rheumatic fever and infantile paralysis we have neither.

Public health workers and medical colleges are doing their best with the disease but they need strong public sentiment to back them.

Special Probe Will Be Asked At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Steubenville's militant Ministerial Association won the first round today in its fight for special police appointments to clean up the city's vice and gambling.

City council passed by a voice vote first reading of an amended ordinance to grant special powers. A second reading will take place in two weeks. If passed then, the ordinance will not become effective for another 30 days.

Meanwhile, the 12 pastors had an appointment to wait on Gov. Lausche tomorrow with a request for a special investigation of the Steubenville situation. The ministers are expected to ask the governor to appoint a special prosecutor and order a grand jury investigation.

The state liquor department revealed yesterday that it was keeping in close touch with the situation through inspectors assigned to the Steubenville area. Acting Director Harlan T. Chapman said reports indicated trouble spots were not those licensed by the liquor department.

Exhaust Fumes Kill Evergreens Growing On Public Square

Evergreens, planted 20 years ago on the public square, have succumbed to the fumes of passing automobiles and trucks, with the result, that the bushes surrounding the World War I stone dedicated July 4, 1925, were being removed this morning by Owen P. Fox and his city forestry crew, to be replaced by more hardy bushes.

According to Mr. Fox, the small bushes, which have been dying gradually for the past number of years, have not been receiving the proper amount of oxygen which has been cut off by the exhaust fumes of the passing vehicles.

The new bushes that will replace the dead ones will not grow nearly as tall as the old ones and will not black out the plaque on the monument as did the old bushes.

The monument was a gift to the city from the New Castle Garden Club and the children of the public schools, according to the inscription on the bronze plaque.

CLAIMS FINANCES OF INDUSTRY NOT SOUND AS THOUGHT

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Finance Chairman Ender M. Voorhees of the U. S. Steel Corp. today maintained that American industry's financial position is not as nearly as sound condition as it is too often prone to think it is. The Pittsburgh chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants heard Voorhees speak last night on "Costing economic changes," during which time he urged acceptance of the challenge to find out how to use the experience of yesterday and the facts of today in order to perceive the costs of tomorrow.

Make Raid On Black Market In German Camp

FRANKFURT, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Military police and army investigators raided the Zeilshelm displaced persons camp today to break up what the official occupation journal described as "the most flourishing black market in Germany."

The raid, carried out 24 hours after the "Occupation Chronicle" published a story describing the "fabulously supplied and intricately operated" black market, netted:

Eight arrests.
Twenty-five autos, some freshly sprayed with paint.
One million saccharine tablets.
More than $2,000 in script.

Raid Is Made
The 100 MP's and 25 investigators drove into the camp in the suburbs of Frankfurt at dawn in hopes of finding the fabulous stocks of jewelry, clothing and counterfeit ration coupons said to be on sale in public booths.

The raiders centered on the bakery which was reported to be the hub of the illegal operations. For a week the bakery had been kept under surveillance.

The owner, Rex Rotin, alleged confessed in the hopes of escaping lightly, declaring others were more guilty than he. He took the MP's to a two-story house.

There a crying woman and a man brought out the script, 25 gold dollars and the saccharine tablets.

The MP's found no evidence of the alleged printing plant which was said to be turning out spurious counterfeit ration cards.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be too kidney. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help almost every part of the body. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it causes nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

RICKETS IN CALVES REPORTED PREVALENT

Rickets, a nutritional disease attacking calves which are fed insufficient amounts of vitamin D, can be arrested before any deformity occurs by liberal feeding of this nutrient. This disease has been found on several Lawrence county farms this fall.

Lack of sufficient vitamin D prevents calves from making use of the mineral in their feed for bone growth with the result the bones become soft. Animals become ew-necked, there is a depression behind the withers, the middle of the back is arched or roached, the loin is low, and the tailhead drops, making the victims "slopers."

Sometimes the disease develops into shoulders, enlarged joints, knocked knees, or legs so bowed the animal can hardly walk, and are unable to live useful lives. Stiff joints often are attributed to rheumatism, but actually rickets are the cause.

Once these deformities occur they persist for life and animals never again can assume their previous appearance, although if the rickets are arrested by liberal feeding of vitamin D, age and size will make the deformities less obvious.

The most readily available and cheapest form of vitamin D for calves is irradiated dry yeast, type 9F, which can be obtained from feed dealers or direct from the manufacturer by mail. The yeast can be fed at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 pounds per ton of grain, or it can be fed directly to calves at about 1/2-teaspoon a day.

Calves apparently suffering from rickets may be fed more liberally since more than the required amounts will not injure the calves in any way.

Screen Chinese Seeking Return To United States

CANTON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Six hundred Chinese, claiming American citizenship, have been or are in the process of being screened by American consular officials in Canton for return to the United States. Many were caught at the fall of Canton to the Japanese in 1941 while others are children of American citizens.

Most of the applicants call San Francisco or Honolulu their homes while others will return to southern California cities, New York or mid-western points.

A program was introduced by the state department last January whereby citizens all over the world, caught in the war, could apply for repatriation to the United States. Funds were made available by the government for the maintenance of needy cases awaiting transportation, as well as the cost of transportation itself. The funds are to be repaid to the U. S. treasury by the repatriates or by their relatives.

The job of screening Chinese-Americans applying for repatriation has proven most difficult. Few Chinese have records of their births, marriages or other important documentary information usually required under law.

It has been necessary for the consular officials to interrogate each member of the family apply for repatriation and from a maze of intimate family testimony as certain if the applicant is entitled to the repatriation privileges.

C. N. Shellito Gives Career Week Talk At Senior High School

Following up the talk of Dr. Robert F. Calbreath to the seniors and part of the juniors of the senior high school Tuesday, C. N. Shellito, director of personal research at the Shenango Pottery, spoke to the sophomores and the rest of the juniors Wednesday as part of the Career Week program at the school.

Career Week is planned to emphasize the guidance program of the school, which is aimed at making the students conscious of the decisions which they must make about their courses and their future careers.

Mr. Shellito's talk compared the choice with a journey which all have to make.

Teachers are also emphasizing the relationship of school work to careers this week, and posters in classroom and halls stress the same theme.

"For Two Cents, I'd..."

"For two cents, I'd entrust my savings to business. I'd invest my surplus funds in securities...and share in the ownership, the risks and the rewards of American industry."

This may not be precisely what the investor says, or even thinks...but it is what he does!

For slightly less than two cents out of the corporate income dollar (U. S. Department of Commerce figures for 1945), the American investor provides industry with the funds needed to create jobs and produce goods.

The ability of industry to obtain funds on such a basis is a striking indication of our people's faith in business efficiency...of their confidence in the future of our business enterprise.

MARKET PLACE FOR INVESTORS

This Exchange is an essential part of the financial mechanism which puts the people's savings to productive use. Countless investors entrust their surplus funds to business enterprise only because they know there is always a ready market for their securities. To those who use its facilities, the Exchange offers this advice: Do not invest your money in securities, or any other form of property, until you have the facts—all the facts. Tips and rumors have no place in a sound investment decision.

Plant Purchases About 400 Acres

Metropolitan Paving Brick Co. Buys Tract Of Land In Bessemer Area

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

In order to assure the company of future stocks of raw material, the Metropolitan Paving Brick Company has purchased a tract of approximately 400 acres of land from the Crucible Steel company, near Bessemer.

Much of the land has been worked out insofar as limestone is concerned, but contains a large supply of shale from which brick is made. The company turns out millions of paving bricks in a year's time and a guaranteed supply of raw materials near the plant is essential. The acquisition of 400 acres will guarantee that supply for a long time to come.

CALL ELECTION BOARD

What might have been thought to be a violation of the election code turned out to be a few minor errors in the procedure of the election board in South New Castle Boro.

A complaint was registered that the ballots had not been counted properly and that an outsider had been permitted to count some of the ballots, a job reserved exclusively for the election board.

The board was asked to come to the court house Wednesday morning and an informal hearing was held in the office of District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson with Chief Clerk to the Permanent Registration Commission A. Lewis Conn taking part.

It was found that a watcher, Joseph Canan had merely piled some of the ballots up and had had no part in counting them. Board members present were Mrs. C. R. Duckworth, judge of elections, Inspectors Agnes Smolkovich and Mrs. Edith Kline, Constable Paul Lydak and Watcher Joseph Canan.

Following the hearing County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers said to the board of county commissioners which is also the election board that apparently the authority of the election board has been usurped at least in part. "There never was any reason for calling the members of the board in and I think we owe the election board an apology."

FOR CAKES OR PASTRIES—VELVET GETS FIVE VOTES IN MY FAMILY

—Says Mrs. D. J. Finch

Try a Velvet WHITE CAKE

3 cups VELVET CAKE FLOUR
3 cup baking powder
3 cup butter (or marg. butter)
1 cup sugar
1 cup milk (or any desired flavoring)
4 egg whites

METHOD

Sift flour, measure and mix with the baking powder and salt thoroughly, add sugar gradually and continue to cream until light and fluffy.

flour mixture in four portions, alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold lightly into the batter. Turn into two 9-inch round cake pans with waxed paper lined bottoms. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes or until the cake tests done. Cool in the pans for about five minutes before removing. Remove from pans and cool completely before icing. Ice as desired.

Yes, sir," says Mrs. D. J. Finch, 2646 Hogarth, Detroit, "all my family like their food. They say they can tell the difference when I bake with anything but Velvet."

Mrs. Finch knows Velvet. She is one of the many good cooks who have helped give Velvet its leadership. Why not follow her example and use Velvet for all your baking.

Women Buy More VELVET Than Any Other Cake Flour

Actual survey shows Velvet ahead of all other cake flours

An amazing independent survey actually showed that where Velvet is best known women buy more Velvet than any other cake flour. That shows what women think of Velvet.

There's a reason for this. They say they get the best results when they use Velvet. The tenderest, flakiest pastry—the fluffiest, lightest cakes—that's what every woman wants, and Henkel's Velvet Cake Flour can help you to get them.

Velvet is such a wonderful flour because its quality is carefully controlled. It's uniform—every bag just the way it should be.

Just try this great flour and see if you're not like thousands of other good cooks who get such wonderful results with Velvet that they never want to use any other flour.

[VALUABLE PREMIUMS]

Every package of Velvet Cake Flour contains valuable coupons that can now be exchanged for a large range of wonderful aluminum ware for your kitchen. Start saving your coupons now.

Good Neighbor Policy Is Given Support Of GOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Strong Republican support was thrown today behind the good neighbor policy of the late President Roosevelt.

It tended to indicate that Republican leaders of the new Congress, which will convene Jan. 3, will continue unchanged the program of full-scale cooperation with Latin-American countries.

Complete backing for the good neighbor policy was expressed by Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., (R-Mass., who will become speaker of the House in the 80th Congress.

Martin, now House minority leader, stated: "Latin America is, of course, the one field where we must have the fullest economic and military cooperation. We must do all we can to cement relations with our neighbors to the south."

It was recalled that although the good neighbor policy was initiated during Roosevelt's administration, former President Hoover, a Republican, made a goodwill tour to South America after he was elected in 1928.

James Gibson, director of streets, reported today Commissioner Trevor Williams has a crew of street men scraping streets to make them good for winter travel.

The first settlement of white men in New York was in Greenwich Village, except for the vicinity of the Battery. Earlier it was the site of the Indian village of Sappokanican.

More than 6,500 brides of American servicemen have left Australia to make their homes in the United States, taking with them nearly 3,000 children.

Board Withholds

Action On School

Teachers' Salaries

No action was taken Wednesday night by the New Castle school board upon the matter of increases for the teachers of the public school system, but the door was not shut to further discussion of the report.

Director Daniel B. Woolcock,

chairman of the salary committee,

told the board that he and Director

C. L. Shurz had met with a committee of the teachers. This committee had no definite proposal to make at the first meeting but at the second meeting the teachers suggested a $50 per month increase.

Amount $150,000

Said Mr. Woolcock, "we told the committee that this would mean an addition of $150,000 to the budget, which was out of the question at this time. Further, that the budget for 1946-47 had been made and the schools were operating under it.

Said Mr. Shurz, "I believe this $50

sion. I feel certain the teachers would consider a figure lower than this, if any were offered. Some of them had the opinion that the board had a heavy reserve of money from which to draw and cited the fact that we had just awarded a contract for steel bleacher seats at the Taggart Stadium. I told them this money would not come out of the present budget."

Said President Brandle, "it must not be forgotten that we have about

$1,600,000 in unpaid bonds. In the past ten years we have collected about that amount in delinquent taxes, otherwise we would have had to increase our millage. Finances are always a problem and I know the teachers realize this."

The matter will be discussed later.

Troopers And Posse

Hunt For Escaped

Convict In Jersey

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 14.—(INS)—

New Jersey state troopers, augmented by a posse of 30 armed hunters, scoured the wooded lands of Chippinham township today while a helicopter dived overhead in search of an escaped convict.

The manhunt centered on Jack

W. Smith, 22, of Los Angeles, who broke out of the Somerset County,

Pa., jail, with 19-year-old William

B. Hinkle of Reno, Nev., on Monday.

Hinkle was seized yesterday after a 14-mile automobile chase through

Camden streets, but his accomplice eluded authorities.

Detectives quoted the youth as saying he and Smith were going to organize a "gang" in Philadelphia, and had gone to New Jersey in search of weapons.

Authorities recovered an automobile they abandoned near the woods, and said it contained loot reported stolen Tuesday night from the home of Charles Van Buren, of Merchant-ville.

Michigan Deer

Joins Steer Herd

CHESTERTON, Ind., Nov. 14.—

(INS)—A wild deer today joined

Michigan venison hunters, whose season opens tomorrow by making its way to a farm near Chesterton and joining farmer Ray Demass's steer herd.

Demass said he noticed the young bull trotting around with his herd of Hereford steers recently.

The deer has been virtually adopted by the herd—said by Demass.

At first Demass envisioned juicy venison steaks, but then remembered that Indiana law prohibits the killing of deer. Then the deer became so friendly that the farmer named it "Jack."

"Jack" now recognizes his name and trots to the farmer for a daily treat of an apple, Demass said he believes the deer strolled to Indiana from Michigan.

Projects Before School Board

Many Proposals Given Attention At Meeting Of Board Wednesday Night

PERMIT ASKED FOR HONOR ROLL

Appearing before the New Castle School Board Wednesday night, a delegation representing the James Phillips Post of the American Legion asked permission to erect an honor roll upon the northwest corner of the Lincoln-Garfield school yard. In the delegation were Commander Joseph DeRobbio, Attorney Frank O. Moretti and Frank Natale.

The board was informed the proposed honor roll would be one of masonry with a bronze plaque superimposed upon it, the size about four feet thick and twenty-four feet long.

Regret Refusal
After hearing the delegation the board members expressed their approval of the honor roll idea but said they felt it would be impractical to put it in the school yard for two reasons. First it would restrict the playing area of the yard and second it would create a traffic hazard in that the youngsters might dash out from the front of the honor roll into the street.

Schools Get Award
Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of schools, showed the board a certificate of merit awarded the schools by the U. S. Treasury department for work done in the war bond sales campaigns.

The matter of a basketball coach for the George Washington Junior High school came up and it was finally agreed by the board that a salary of $175 would be paid for a coach, the coach to be named by Dr. Burton.

The board authorized the cleaning and repairing of all football uniforms and equipment. Director A. Hyde said this year it was good business to have the equipment repaired as it was almost impossible to replace it.

A contract with Kirk-Hutton company for 600 pounds of grass seed was authorized at their bid of $449.75. The seed will be for the football eridiron at Taggart stadium and also for any other school lawns. Authority was given Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds S. G. Ligo to purchase boiler sections for the Rose Avenue boiler.

Practice Field

Director Hyde brought up the matter of a practice field for the football team. He said the new steel bleacher seats on the west side of the Taggart stadium would take up about sixty more feet than the present wooden seats. "This will make the area too narrow for practice" said he.

He then suggested that Boyles field on Highland avenue be put into shape for a practice field, and that a shower room be installed in the basement of the Highland school. The committee upon Buildings and Grounds was instructed to look into the idea and if feasible, to have it done.

Solicitor Robert L. Wallace reported to the board that the New Castle Manufacturing Jewelers were willing to pay $8,000 for the old Aiken school building on Pearson street and would make a deposit of $500 today. The sale will be consummated.

A contract with the W. G. Eckles and the Thayer companies, architects who are working jointly upon plans for the proposed gymnasium, was authorized. Under the contract the architects will prepare plans and specification for the proposed gym at a cost not to exceed $7200. The plans and specifications to be the property of the school system.

If and when the gymnasium is built the architects are to supervise the erection of the building and to perform whatever architectural fees are necessary, the fee to be six per cent of the cost of the building.

If you feel ambitious, you can repair holes in sweaters or jersey dresses by almost invisible use of chain stitches to duplicate the appearance of the knitted fabric.

Clarence Spencer Stamp Club Speaker

"Dated Controls" will be the subject of Clarence Spencer, of this city, tonight at 8 o'clock, as he addressed members of the New Castle Stamp club in the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Spencer, who is an authority on the subject, will relate to the club of his many experiences in the stamp business.

John Hitch, president of the club will be in charge of the evening meeting, which is open to the public.

Eleven million meals were served in 1945 to needy Americans across the country by the Salvation Army.

TO ACT ON EXTRADITION
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Federal Judge Nelson McVicar today ordered state and local authorities to show why the government should not pass upon extradition of Leon Johnson, a fugitive from a Georgia chain gang.

Johnson, who is in the Allegheny county jail, asked government intervention in the extradition proceeding because he feared he might be lynched or beaten by Georgia prison authorities.

DIES OF ALCOHOLISM
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The Allegheny county coroner's office today said that William Denny, 26, of Oakdale, who was found dead in bed, died of acute alcoholism. At first it was believed he died from injuries received during a street altercation.

Can you spot your state ... and how many more?

This page is framed by all 48 states. They're accurate in outline but not in relative size.

Without peeking into Junior's geography book, find your own state first. Then see how many more you can identify. (Answers buried below.) Ten right means you're bright. Twenty makes you an honor student. Thirty qualifies you as Secretary of States!

So what? So the folks who own America's business-managed electric companies live in every one of these states. They include a lot of your friends and neighbors—and probably you, too.

How come? Well, several million Americans have invested their savings in electric companies directly. Some 48 million more have invested indirectly—through savings bank accounts and life insurance policies. Banks and insurance companies, entrusted with your funds, like to put 'em to work in sound utility securities.

As a result, almost every American family has a stake in the self-supporting, tax-paying electric companies that provide most of America's power. Thanks largely to good business management, the price of electricity has come down while other prices have gone way up—and this country enjoys the best electric service in the world.

Evangelicals And
United Brethren
To Merge SaturdayRev. and Mrs. H. H. Grove And Daughter, Louise, Of This City,
Leave Friday For Sessions

Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Grove and daughter, Miss Louise Grove, South street, will leave Friday for Johnstown, where they will represent the Emmanuel Evangelical church, South Jefferson street, in the history making ceremonies, when the Evangelical churches of America and United Brethren churches unite to form one large denomination on Saturday.

The new church to be formed will become the nation's tenth largest denomination, with 714,000 members. All four incumbent bishops of the Evangelical church were re-elected Wednesday during the denominations' final general conference at Johnston.

Those re-elected were Bishops John Stamm, Harrisburg; George Edward Epp, Naperville, Ill.; E. W. Pratorius, St. Paul, Minn., and C. H. Stauffacher, Kansas City, Mo., who are expected to be re-elected in the merged church.

Three hundred delegates from 36 states and five mission fields are registered for the United Brethren last conference with reports being given, outlining the progress of the church and its aims for the future. According to Rev. Grove, pastor of the local Evangelical church, the only change effective in New Castle would be the name of the church, which would be the Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren church. United Brethren churches in New Castle at present are not the same denomination as the merging church.

Sun Oil Head
Raps Anglo-U.S.
Trade Agreement

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(INS)—J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil company, charged today that the pending Anglo-American petroleum agreement threatens to become a "strait-jacket for world trade."

Pew, in an address to the American Petroleum Institute, urged a re-study of the agreement. State department officials, he declared, have revealed their desire to use the oil pact as "a stepping stone toward world-wide control of petroleum."

"If this agreement is to be the camel's nose under the tent of a restrictive inter-governmental cartel," he asserted, "then it becomes a real danger to our industry and an unrelenting fight should be made upon it."

He called on the government to lend diplomatic support and assistance to American countries in their dealings with foreign nations, rather than to follow the path of "restrictive collectivism."

Hotel Strike May Be Settled Soon

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—A possible settlement loomed in Pittsburgh's 45-day-old hotel strike when union management agreed to meet and discuss the union's modified terms.

Although union officials did not discuss the new terms, labor observers said they believed it was the union's wage demands originally set at the beginning of the strike October 1.

The offer to continue negotiations came following a three-hour conference with hotel operators, AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union officials and Mayor David L. Lawrence.

The action followed a stinging message from Edgar L. Warren, U. S. conciliation director, to both management and union officials "to settle the costly walkout."

The last offer made by the hotel operators was an eight cent an hour wage boost for non-tip receiving employees and a four cent an hour increase to tip receiving workers. The union originally demanded a 25-cent an hour hike, meals for all workers and control of the insurance plan.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 14.—(INS)—The American Legion's National Guard of Honor was scheduled to arrive in Uniontown tomorrow to take part in the homecoming celebration for National Commander Paul H. Griffith. The guard is based in Washington.

The brilliantly garbed guard, organized in 1934 and designated as the official unit of the Legion, will escort the commander from the railroad station to a theater where he is scheduled to make an address.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Method Of Return To Local Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—If the speeches made during the late campaign on the theme of restoring local government were laid end to end, they would undoubtedly circle the solar system. When the oratory in the incoming Republican Congress begins, we will hear a lot more on this same subject.

It brings to mind Mark Twain's comment about the weather. Everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything about it. Few orators ever venture to tell us how to cure the spreading evil of centralization.

That is what gives point to a speech made in Philadelphia by Dr. E. L. Lillenthal. It was Lillenthal's hail and farewell as chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, a post he has now given up to become chairman of this country's Atomic Energy Commission.

Shows Another Way

Speaking before the National Municipal League, Lillenthal denied that "big government" in Washington is inevitable. He pointed to the pattern employed under TVA to show that there is another way.

Under TVA Congress set the national policy. The act creating the vast experiment in the Tennessee Valley provided for flood control, the restoration of soil, navigation and the sale of electric power. But in carrying out the mandate from Congress, TVA used local agencies of government.

"The TVA," Lillenthal said, "has by persistent effort delegated and thereby decentralized its functions so that most of them are carried out not by Federal employees at all, but by local and state personnel. This is effected by scores of contracts tying up joint partnership between TVA and cities, towns, counties, state boards of health, state conservation commissions, county boards, farmers, cooperatives, county extension services, state agricultural colleges, state geology departments—I could continue this list almost indefinitely."

General Agency

In private utility systems, as Lillenthal pointed out, one company customarily generates, transmits and distributes electricity. In the Tennessee Valley, the TVA, a central agency, operates the generating plants and 6,000 miles of transmission lines that carry electricity over an area as large as Great Britain. But the power is distributed by 140 local agencies, locally financed distribution agencies.

This, in Lillenthal's view, is a distinction of major importance. Congress must and should determine national policy in a particular field. This does not mean, however, that administration of that policy must be on a nation-wide or centralized basis.

Since the TVA has turned responsibility over to local administration, states in the area have developed new resources for planning and development. In Tennessee and Alabama, the number of local planning commissions increased from 2 in 1935 to 35 in 1943. These commissions are helping people in the two states to take the utmost advantage of the new lakes and the recreation areas created by TVA. A rapidly developing tourist trade has grown up around these assets.

Example To Follow

Here is an example for the Republicans to follow. They really want to decentralize government. It is a practical way to reach the goal that almost every one agrees is desirable. The Federal government, which dispenses the money, can reserve the right to lay down certain standards on how the cities, the states and the counties and their subordinate agencies shall spend the money.

Talk of decentralization that goes very much further than this is largely wishful thinking. Since the age of the horse and buggy, the nation has been centralized—and not by the wish or the whim of any so-called bureaucrat. It has been centralized by the railroad, the motor car, the airplane, by corporations that leap over all local boundaries in their far-flung activities.

The kind of centralization took place long before the New Deal brought national laws on labor relations and social security. The power was centralized, before 1933, in New York rather than in Washington. But it was centralized nevertheless and was exercised through a very narrow channel. To uncrumple that kind of centralization—technological, financial—is obviously impossible.

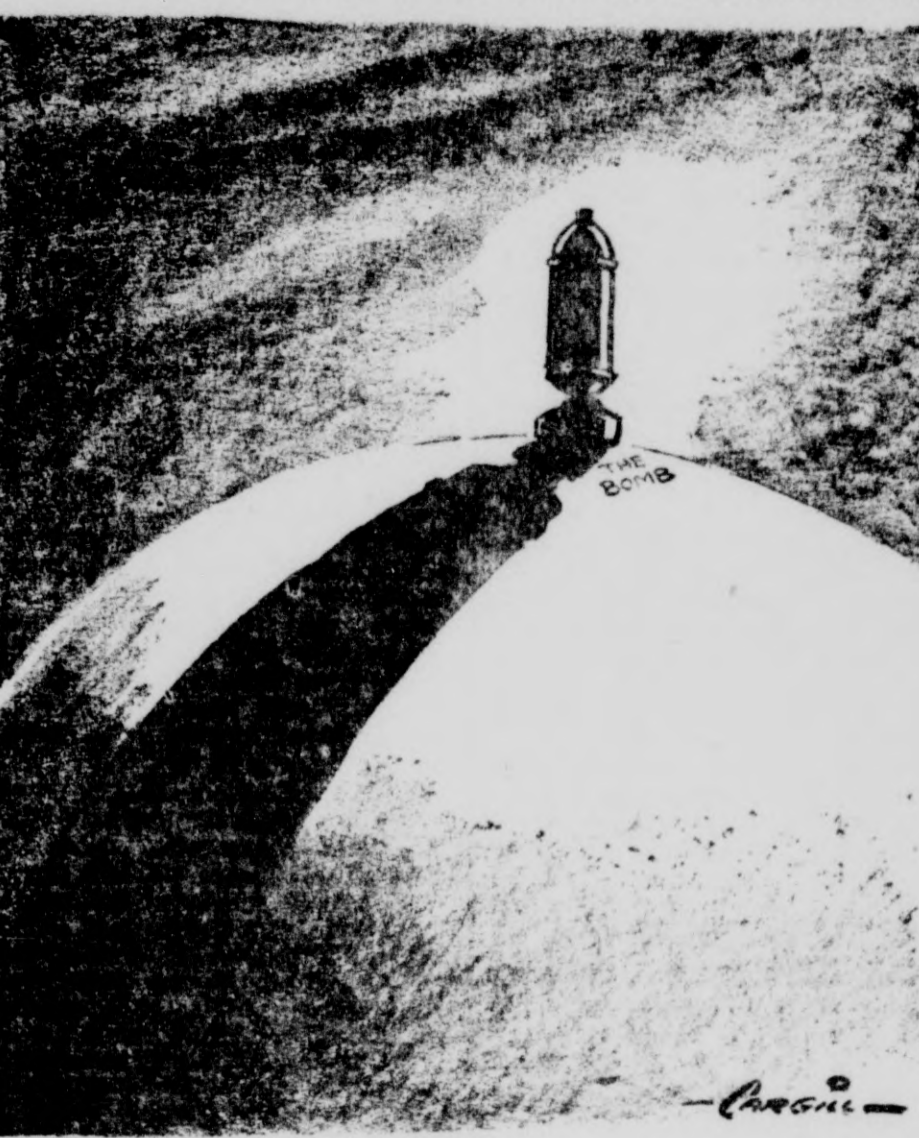

The TVA is practical proof that you can pass administrative authority on to the community. Speaking in the northwest recently, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krus proposed that the Columbia River Valley be developed under a similar regional agency, decentralized and autonomous, rather than under the direction of his department in Washington. Here is a way to get government back where it belongs—back in the local community.

What People Say

(By International News Service)
LONDON—Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill: "To abandon India and have a war with the Jews in order to give Palestine to the Arabs amidst world execration appears to carry incongruity of thought and action to an extent rarely attained in human history."
WASHINGTON—President Truman approves Nuremberg verdicts: "I am satisfied that the defendants received a fair trial. I hope we have established for all time the proposition that aggressive war is criminal and will be so treated."
LAKE SUCCESS—Senator Tom Connally: "The U.S. delegate to the United Nations: 'We will not disarm while other great powers remain armed. Real disarmament cannot be achieved without adequate measures of inspection to insure efficient enforcement.'"

"Five O'clock Shadow"

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

The Duke of Windsor is in town and he's the envy of the Democrats. Out of work and getting severance pay.

Henry Wallace says nothing can save us with the Republicans in power but he'll do his best to defend the old republic with the type-written of the new republic.

Mr. Truman took the results quite calmly but Henry still is riding standing up in the stirrups, coat tail flying out behind screaming "Run for the hills... the reactionaries are coming!"

Anyhow some progress is being made on housing. Several more conferences have been held in Washington and the story is that the only things now holding up low cost housing are high prices and lack of materials.

Or as happened in the case of the omelette... It would have been perfect if the cook had been able to find eggs.

A friend of mine asked a builder friend to give him a price on a house and the builder said "I can give you two styles... a house worth four thousand for 10 or a house worth 10 for 20 and you're a sucker if you take either."

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

The wife of a small politician died recently.

Early automobiles carrying "mourners" followed the hearse to the church, and fifty-one cars loaded with 750 floral pieces, valued at more than $10,000, completed the cortege.

May the lady rest in peace.

From what I hear she was a good woman, a simple woman of immigrant stock, a woman who was kindly and charitable.

I wonder whether she would have wanted ten thousand dollars worth of flowers and 101 automobiles to take her to eternity.

I wonder whether she would not have preferred to have a hospital ward founded with that money, or something else more permanent and more useful done with it.

As I write this, those flowers have wilted and are thrown away.

Many of those automobiles that followed her to the grave have since been used for other funerals—or gone to picnics and weddings.

You may notice that I put the word "mourners" in quotation marks.

How many of the occupants of the fifty cars were real mourners, how many were people who wanted to please the politician?

I hate ostentatious funerals. Pomp and display have never yet made anybody great.

To me there is nothing quite so private and so inexorable as death. It is the beginning of a journey on which each of us has to go alone, alone with his soul, alone with the record of his deeds, alone with his God.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

We haven't, at our finger tips, the complete report of all the churches and the collections taken last Sunday for the Community Chest. But we feel free in stating that one church was outstanding in the amount that was turned in. The Epworth Methodist Church had a grand total of sixty-five dollars. The one church that has been carrying the heaviest load for a great number of years... The church that has been in debt to the tune of over ninety thousand dollars... and who this year pledged to pay off that debt... dug down in their jeans and collected thirty-five dollars over and above their regular needs. That, to us, shows again... what spirit prevails in this community when a people make up their mind to do a job.

Some other churches gave very freely. For some of the smaller churches... it was just as difficult to scrape together ten dollars... in proportion to their debt and the need for current expenses. But some of the churches with a large prosperous membership, we feel, were rather slight in their contributions.

Some folks will give the argument that they had already contributed at their office, home or factory. Sure... we did too... but the collection made last Sunday was not to take the place of your other contributions. It was in addition... it was to help make up that last bit of money that was needed to put the New Castle Community Chest over the top.

We know of one individual who gave around three hundred dollars at the beginning of the campaign... and who on Sunday last... dug down again. You say... well he could afford it... yes, maybe he could... but how about the man who gave a dollar during the campaign... many, many of them dug down again last Sunday... we saw that with our own eyes... some people have the spirit of cooperation and some haven't.

We believe that most of the citizens of this community have the right spirit... some take a little longer to display it than others, but it's there, down deep in their hearts... where it counts.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DISCIPLINING YOUNG SMOKER

Most parents wish their sons and daughters never smoked. Practically all parents certainly wish their children did not smoke until grown up. In spite of all the temptations facing the boy and girl to smoke and to begin smoking while in high school or much earlier some parents are so esteemed by their children and so wise in their ways of dealing with them that these children often do not choose to smoke until completion of high school or ever during their lifetime.

Yet many other parents who are so very eager to keep their child from acquiring the smoking habit not only fail to do so but also impair their relationships with this child in their vain attempt.

A Mother Writes

Of her son, 13, a mother writes: "My husband and I have proof that, with other boys, he has taken to smoking when he gets a chance. I have had one talk with him about it in a friendly fashion pointing out the disadvantages of smoking and asking him to refrain from it until he is out of high school. He did not answer and the subject was dropped. Then I told him he'd not get another chance, but if I suspected again, we would punish him in such a severe manner that he'd regret not having obeyed. Now I would like advice as to what manner of punishment he deserves. This bothers me terribly. Please advise me as soon as possible. A self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed."

Punishment Not Effective

This is about the way I answer the mother. You are wise to wish that your young son will not smoke but your procedure is not good. You say you threatened him with punishment if "suspected again." Please don't punish him merely on the basis of suspicion. A court of justice wouldn't. Even if you actually caught him smoking, punishment hardly would be effective since you could not continue to do so without exception. Any sort of punishment will pretty surely cause him to be more secretive and deceptive. You see, if he really wants to smoke he can find easy ways to do so without your knowing about it. Then his deception would be many times more poisonous to his spirit and moral stuff than the nicotine could be to his body.

Really, the big issue is not smoking but the relationship between that boy and his parents. Build up in all sorts of ways a lovely relationship with this son and then he, knowing how you feel about his smoking, will have a powerful urge to abide by your wishes.

Understand The Problem

In talking with your son again about the matter let him know you understand his problem. Don't be angry or excited over the matter. Never again threaten him, spy on him, or try to corner him. Don't ever exact a promise of him not to smoke. He knows your wishes.

If he has had good training in the use of money and using an allowance the cost argument should appeal also to him. But how persuasive anything you say to him will depend on how calm and objective you are and the kind of feelings between you and this child which you have cultivated over the months and years. The foregoing principles apply to all sorts of problems related to the conduct of a growing child when not in your immediate presence.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

USE OF NAPKIN RING

Question: Is the use of napkin rings permissible?

Answer: Those who can afford to supply three clean napkins a day to each member of the family need not resort to the use of napkin rings which is frowned on by the fastidious. But in many families where so much laundry would be either inconvenient or financially prohibitive, napkin rings are still used at family dinners. The ring should be removed before the napkin is placed on the table.

Question: When serving wine at dinner, whose glass should be filled first—that of the guest-of-honor or that of the hostess?

Answer: A thoughtful hostess should first be poured into the glass of the host or the hostess if there is no host. Then the guests should be served after which the waitress should be pouring into the host's glass. Wine glasses should never be more than about three-quarters filled.

Question: Is it necessary for a woman to thank a man who gives her a seat in a street car?

Answer: "Thank you" is a small phrase with a large meaning. Do not be sparing in your use of it. Thank everyone for every little thing that is done for you. Thank the stranger who gives you directions on the street, and the man who gives you a seat in a street car. No matter what small courtesy is done for you, do not forget to say "thank you" in return. It is always appreciated and it is usually expected.

Question: During a toast should the person toasted drink also?

Answer: No. Everyone else present stands and drinks to the person toasted, who remains seated and does not drink. It is then customary for him to rise and say a few words in acknowledgement or a return toast.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Lillenthal Popular As Atom Control Chairman
Behind Scenes Battle 'Twixt Braden, Messersmith
U. S. M. P.'s Take No Chances In Germany

(Special To Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—As the five men who will manage the nation's monopoly on atomic energy begin to take hold of their all-important jobs, it appears probable that at least for the present there will be no political opposition to their appointments.

Selection of David Lillenthal as chairman seemed to have been generally acceptable. While extreme left wingers regard him as an internationalist, Lillenthal has taken a hard-headed view of the international aspects of nuclear energy as a weapon.

In speeches he has said flatly that agreements to "outlet" atomic warfare are worthless. Likewise, he sees iron curtains in the world as preventing inspections of the various peaceful applications of atomic energy from safeguarding against secret conversions to war purposes.

The atomic chief declared that only an international body, with a full artistic world monopoly on atomic energy, sources of material and processing facilities, can save the world for future atomic war.

On domestic politics, Lillenthal is expected, even by those who have not approved the principles involved in the Tennessee Valley Authority, to do a good administrative job.

As chief of the TVA, Lillenthal has been on a tight rope, with the enmity of smart, able Senator Kenneth McKellar (D) of Tennessee, as an ever-present threat to trim him up if he took an awkward step.

If anyone can manage the nation's atomic monopoly without getting in trouble with private industry and Congress, sure-footed Dave Lillenthal would seem most likely to succeed.

State department observers are watching a behind-the-scenes conflict between Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden, former "tough" United States ambassador to Argentina, and the present ambassador, George Messersmith.

Messersmith favors a minimum of compliance from the Peron regime in its commitments to string along with other American republics; Braden wants almost complete compliance.

An early determination of the struggle is expected and newsmen are waiting for it to break.

Flavello H. LaGuardia, director of UNRRA, the current subject of no-talking among Agriculture department employees in view of "Butch's" recent statement to a news conference that UNRRA is shipping mules to Yugoslavia for breeding purposes.

Better biologists than Butch immediately pointed out with delight the irrefutable fact that mules are hybrids and cannot breed.

A Detroit newspaper editorial on the subject was circulated among employees to add to the merriment, particularly this "belly laugh" paragraph:

And the sense that lies within it
Can be called on in a minute,
If you'll only stop to use it,
When the need to it appears."

I have blundered. Who has not?
For so often I've forgot
What my father tried to teach me,
And I've tried to teach my son,
Into trouble I've gone sinking
When I've acted without thinking,
And I've paid with bitter sorrow
For the foolish things I've done.

Extortion Plot Works Out Well For 'Ugly' Boy

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(INS)—A brighter future beckoned today to 16-year-old David Ruge—a Chicago office boy whose self-styled "ugliness" led him to attempt extortion to get enough money to buy a new face.

The benevolence of a judge and an Ohio steel executive will give Ruge his new start.

Ruge told Judge Charles E. Byrne yesterday that he needed money for a plastic surgery job—"so I can look like other boys."

The youth attempted to get the money by threatening to kill the son and daughter of his employer, Philip Weiss, a novelty manufacturer, unless he was given $5,000. Instead, police arrested Ruge and he was charged with extortion.

Ruge's story of how he was driven from school to school by classmates' taunts about his unusually heavy features brought sympathy from the judge and R. R. Trubee, president of a Clyde, O., steel company.

Trubee offered to contribute $1,000 to a fund for a plastic surgery operation on Ruge. The judge put Ruge on four years' probation, and gave his approval of the fund.

Already the fund for Ruge's new face is growing.

Ground School For Commercial Flight Starts At Airport

Ground school for the commercial aviation classes has now been started at the New Castle airport, in the morning and evening, two days a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Findley Wilson, operators of the airport, have been invited to the National Aircraft show in Cleveland, and expect to attend on November 22 and 23.

Recently the airport exhibited a new plane, the "Seabee," a four-place amphibious craft. The plane has one 215 horse power engine, a retractable landing gear, a full instrument panel, a two-way radio, and lights for night flying.

An odd-looking plane, the "Seabee" is twenty-five feet long, with a wing span of forty-two feet. The seats are near the front, with the engine behind the wing and the propeller behind the engine, "pushing" the plane along. Below, and extending beyond the propeller, the rest of the fuselage is small and slender, ending in a fairly large tail.

This plane has attracted more attention than any plane exhibited at the airport for a long time.

WOUNDED HERO RETURNS HOME

Triple Amputee Gets New Home In Youngstown From Public Contributions

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 14.—Corporal Ralph Brown, Youngstown tank veteran, who lost both legs and an arm in the battle of Metz, September 22, 1944, is home from Walter Reed hospital—home to stay. He has been discharged from the hospital and the service and is on terminal leave.

In the meantime, he is waiting completion of a new home, funds for which were raised by public contribution. More than $22,000 was subscribed. While a large part of this contribution will be expended in the construction of the home, there will be a "nest egg" left for maintenance and other purposes. Corporal Brown is learning to use artificial limbs and says he expects to be able to walk into his new home when it is completed.

Brewery Workers Ordered To Work; Threaten Job Loss

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Pittsburgh brewery operators today notified "non-working" employees to return to work by tomorrow, or face the "loss of your jobs."

The ultimatum was directed at about 20 bottling house workers who walked off the job when the AFL-Teamsters union and the CIO Brewery Workers jurisdictional war broke out several weeks ago.

A spokesman for the brewers said that the group, about 15 per cent of the bottling house workers, represented employees who are divided between members of the AFL and CIO.

Meanwhile, in Harrisburg, Gov. Edward Martin was scheduled to meet with Anthony Federoff, regional CIO director and officials from the Brewery Workers Union, to hear their side of the bitter feud. AFL officials met with the governor Monday.

At the same time minor violence continued. A brick was tossed through a window of a tavern police said had been selling Pittsburgh beer.

State's 28 GOP Congressmen Are United On Issues

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 28-member Republican delegation to the 80th Congress today was off to a good start in presenting a united front in Washington.

The winners in last week's congressional balloting took their first united action yesterday in agreeing to support Minority Floor Leader Joseph W. Martin, Massachusetts, for speaker. The announcement was made following a meeting with Gov. Edward Martin, U. S. Senator-elect, and Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor. The delegation will be sworn into office January 6.

Cong. Richard M. Simpson, Huntington, dean of the delegation, reported that names were not mentioned for other House offices or committee memberships.

Specific decisions were expected to be made during another meeting "some time in December" at Washington, D. C., according to Simpson.

Taylor said all members were pledged to "harmony and teamwork."

All-Star Gridders Ready For Battle At Sharon Friday

Coaches Announce Tentative Lineup For Optimist Game

Optimist Club All-Star Game At Sharon Has Caught Fancy Of Fans; See 10,000 In Stands For Kickoff At 8 P. M.; Lawrence County Squad Strong; Proceeds Will Go To Optimists To Promote Boys Work.

Lawrence county's senior all-star football team is ready and waiting for the big Optimist club classic at the Sharon High stadium Friday night, that will send them into combat with the Mercer county all-star seniors at 8 o'clock. James Dunlop of Farrell is directing a band of over 100 pieces at the game.

After a week of practice Head Coach William Ciccone of Bessemer has announced a tentative starting lineup that will find every school in the county with representatives. Lawrence county is fielding a very strong eleven out of the 27 boys who have been picked to participate.

Face Tough Foes

Lawrence county is bucking up against a tough foe in the Mercer county all-stars, comprised of seven Mercer county schools—Sharon, Farrell, Sharpville, northwestern champions this year, Greenville, Grove City, Mercer and Hickory. Only senior players who have finished their high school careers are eligible to participate in the all-star game.

Lending advice to Head Coach Ciccone last evening were coaches from every school in the county as follows: Phil Bridenbaugh of New Castle High, Thurman Croft of Ellwood City, Howard Gill of Ellwood City, Bob Dinsmore of Union, Eddie Niles of Sharon and also helping to drill the boys were Paul Cuba, former New Castle High assistant coach, and Benny Ciccone, former Duquesne university star.

During the playing of the game only four coaches will be able to direct the squad—William Ciccone, Dinsmore, Nahas and Croft.

Final Arrangements

New Castle Optimist club members at their weekly dinner-meeting at The Castleton hotel tonight will make final plans for the "big classic", with Al Garren as general chairman of the game details, talking things over with his various committee heads: T. A. Grauel, George Weinschenk, Wayne Fullerton, Harold Boake, Glenn Montgomery, Otto Pearsall, Art Graham and J. Marlin.

Tickets for the game are on sale at the Sporting Goods store and are meeting a ready demand. The entire county is all pepped up over the playing of this gigantic football game.

Tentative Starting Team

Head Coach Ciccone today indicated that every boy on the squad will get a chance to play Friday night, and that he would probably start the game with the following lineup:

Left guard—Low Rotunno, Union.
Center—Francis Retort, Bessemer.

Wabash Bears Out To Upset Famous Alliance Eleven

Two Defeats Over Youngstown And Tie With Portage Peps Up Bears

Working like trojans, the Wabash Bears semi-pro football team will go back to the E. & A. field tonight at 4:30 o'clock for a round of conditioning for their '47 Thanksgiving Day game at the New Castle High stadium with the famous Alliance, O. Aviators.

Elated over their showing to date that includes two wins over the Scher Tailors of Youngstown and a tie 0-0 with the strong Portage All-Stars Monday in the rain and mud at Portage, the Bears are going about their conditioning with a will that spells a bad afternoon for the Ohioans on "Turkey Day".

Start Selling Tickets

Starting in the game at Portage Monday was Sammy "The Struck" Ciaza, former New Castle High star, with long runs. Also starting in the Bears backfield were such performers as Gabby DeCaprio and Sammy Copple, also former New Castle High stars. The whole Bears line played brilliantly at Portage. William Domick, president of the Bears organization, said today that the ticket sale for the Thanksgiving Day game has already started and that a good crowd is assured. Coach Tippy Richards is handling the Bears with the assurance of a veteran.

Illinois Meeting Offensive Buckeyes

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(INS)—University of Illinois football followers combined a shiver with a smile today as they examined the latest statistical record of the Illinois football team, Ohio State.

It was both heartening and frightening. Figures released by Western Conference Headquarters today showed that:

Ohio State ranks first in the Big Nine offensively.

Ohio State ranks seventh in Big Nine defensively.

What's more, the pace-setting Illinois is no better than sixth offensively and a mild fourth on defense.

Those Big If's Face Penn Team

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The outcome of Saturday's Penn-Army game at Franklin Field may well depend on an "if," according to the Pennsylvania News Bureau.

Concerning the Red and Blue's chances, a news release stated:

"If they can stop the hard-running Blanchard, and the speedy Davis, and can cope with the passes thrown by Tucker, there is a possibility that Pennsylvania may cause a bit of an upset."

Sportsman's Council To Convene Friday

Sportsman's Council of Lawrence County will hold a regular monthly meeting at 8 o'clock Friday night, in the Y. M. C. A., according to George Bolinger, secretary. Several topics of importance will be discussed and members of affiliated clubs are requested to be present.

Last Night's Fights

BARONS STING HORNETS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The Cleveland Barons moved into a first place tie with Indianapolis in the Western division of the American Hockey League after defeating the Pittsburgh Hornets by 7 to 2 in a game at Pittsburgh last night before 4,000 surprised spectators.

Lawrence County All-Star Squad, 1946

Pictured above is the Lawrence County all-star grid squad which will oppose the Mercer County aggregation in the Sharon stadium Friday night.

The game is being sponsored by the Optimist clubs of New Castle and Sharon. Members of both squads are seniors who have completed their high school playing careers.

Bob Mue, former Fairmont avenue resident and who played in the W. & J. backfield some years ago, left 'at home' Saturday in Columbus when he witnessed Ohio State and Pitt clash, according to a message to Here & There.

"I sat in the rear of Everett Martin, son-in-law of the late Dr. C. C. Green. He resides in Akron and his son, Bob, age 15, weight 175, is playing center for Cuyahoga Falls. I got another feeling of home when the Pitt squad took the field. I felt as though I was watching the Red Hurricanes because Pitt is dominated by former Ne-Ca-Hi stars, Bobbie Lee and Bill McPeak started the game. Haddad played the larger part of the game at center and called signals on defense. Rousseau was about the biggest man on the Pitt squad and a Lindy Lauro saw lots of action at fullback. According to the roster Pitt has more New Castle men on the roster than Pittsburgh, itself. In my opinion McPeak is the stand-out Pitt player. His work at end, both on offense and on defense rate him All-American for my money. He scored Pitt's first touchdown when he fooled the alert OSU secondary and took a pass with not a State man near him. Ohio State made every touchdown via the air. They could not get anywhere on ground and especially when they tried the ends where they had been so successful against Northwestern. Pitt's odd defense, a 5-4-2, is powerful against a running attack but makes them especially vulnerable against a good passing team. Seems they would do better with a 5-2-2-2, by pulling the ends back a little further. Pitt's second touchdown found Lauro the stand-out back. His runs off tackle mowed Pitt down the field. He went on without too much interference from the defense. With Ohio State leading 20-13 and about three minutes remaining Pitt made one last attempt to tie the score and again it was a "New Castle drive". Bobby Lee was the key man. His passes took Pitt deep into OSU territory. Pitt's third line gave quite a fluid defense and OSU rushed Bobby's passes time and again but he managed to find his mark in each series of downs, enough to move them down the field. They got to the 15 and were penalized for intentionally grounding a pass. On the last down Lee once tried to find a man open. Failing, he ran it himself and got back to the 10 when State took over and stalled the game away."

A dog leaps through an industrial plant window then leaps right out again. A valiant cat is trapped then "bopped" into oblivion by two young boys at Highland Heights, and now another feature, and Believe It Or Not, Mr. Ripley, it's true. Here it is: Harry Campbell, former sailor, who is employed at Meadville, came home to the farm of his dad, Sam Campbell, at Plainpore. Calling a Shepherd, which is a cow-dog, and not a hunting dog, they took a stroll. The shepherd saw a squirrel and grabbed it. Shortly afterward, the dog saw a rabbit and grabbed that. And there to ask: "Why buy a shotgun, shells and a huntin' dog when a cow-dog catches a squirrel, rabbit and rincek on one jaunt?" ... Stanley Kelish, the Terrace avenue business man, who is a World War I veteran, visited Frank Sargent, veterans advisory committee, ... Neal Williams, city engineering bureau attaché, and a hunter who shoots 'em on the wing is all." Jim Hodge, the Harlansburg outdoorsman, saw the "Big Boy of Harlansburg" several days ago. "One of the biggest bucks I ever did see" Jim told Here & There. He could not count the points. ... Pat Scopia is a connoisseur of neck ties, deluxe. When Russ Baxter drove Frankie Moran to a McKeesport bout, it was costly to both. Russ burned out an auto bearing and Moran sustained an injury to his chest which shelved him temporarily. ... Nick Caniglia's chief sport interest is baseball. ... Wendell Morrison, ex-coast guardian, is working at the post office. He played in the church basketball loop before going into the CG. ... "Having a swell time, wish you were here" post-cards Joe Factor from New York to Here & There. He had good Army-Notre Dame seats, he says. ... Bob Love will see the Army-Navy game. His son was in the RCAF and later an instructor in the U. S. AAF. To Ivor Davis: Here & There received your memo. Thanks. ... Sammy Hancock, manager Sylvan Heights, feels quite chipper over the golf attendance and record receipts at Sylvan Heights, saying: "It was due to the cooperation of Director Joe Alexander and the golf committee."

Phils To Unveil Star Shortstop

General Manager Herb Pennock Refuses To Name New Top-Flight Infield Star

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Philly's general manager Herb Pennock promised Quaker City sports fans today that the Bluejays would unveil a topflight shortstop next season.

Pennock refused to identify the player obtained, but said "We've got the shortstop that will delight the fans."

He described the unidentified ballplayer as "Just what we needed."

Pennock also denied that outfielder Ron Northey would be traded to the Boston Braves for shortstop Dick Culler.

"I'm not trading Northey unless we get a real deal for him," Pennock asserted. "And I wouldn't trade Northey even up for Culler under any circumstances."

City Leaguers Retain Officers; Talk About 1947

City Baseball League Looks Ahead To 1947 Season With 12 Teams, Plan Action

WALTHER, O'LEARY BABOVSKY RENAMED

City baseball league managers met last night, re-elected the officers who served them in 1946, talked over the prospects for a strong loop in 1947, and planned several actions toward that end. If the enthusiasm of the Wednesday meeting can be carried over till next spring New Castle is going to see some classy sandlot baseball.

The managers voted to keep the league at 12 teams, the same number as operated with in its first post-war season. Upmost in the minds of the managers present was the matter of fixing up playing fields for the 1947 season. A playing field committee was appointed to handle these details, consisting of Len Gilbert and Joe Frigione together with the league officials.

Walther Renamed President

The managers voted to retain the same officials who served the league with pronounced success in its first post-war year—Charles P. "Bugs" Walther, veteran of 25 years of sport writing in New Castle was re-elected to the office of presidency, with Joseph O'Leary, another old timer in baseball being re-named as vice-president and Michael "Jake" Babovsky, local well known banker as secretary and treasurer, a job he has handled so well for a great many years.

Teams represented at the meeting last night were: Universal Sanitary Pottery, West Side Tigers, Moose club, Decca D'Amuzzi, South Hills, Slovak club and West Pittsburg.

Managers Offer Support

The city league went on record as being gratified at the prospect of having New Castle in the Middle-Atlantic baseball league, the managers feeling that an organized baseball club here will greatly increase the enthusiasm of the longer men toward baseball and will help strengthen the city baseball league.

The managers also voted to lend their support to the individuals being elected to the Middle-Atlantic league and to help them on the job.

The next meeting of the managers and officials will be held in January, it was announced.

Marsh-Williams In Main Battle

Both Newcomers Here; Leisure Trains Hard For Return 'Go' With Gillespie

Sonny Marsh and Body Williams, light-heavyweights of Niles and Akron, respectively, two newcomers, are docketed for the main three round amateur battle in the Arena Monday night. Marsh is trained by Matt McGowan of Niles, and is said to be one of the better brand of amateurs hereabouts. Williams comes from the same stable as does Jim Gillespie, who is to meet Les Leisure, city, in a return bout, the sixth on the card.

According to reports, Leisure has been training hard for the return bout. He wants to wipe out ideas that he got a present when Referee Charles James presented him a TKO win over Gillespie in the first of the third round. The referee, despite criticism from some fans, yet maintains he acted in the safety of boxing. He claims that Gillespie, pummeled in the first two rounds, was in no condition to continue.

Billy Lewis, Meadville, another said to be good amateur will box Jerry Kerry, Rochester, at 165.

Bill Bradley, 160, city, training at the RVA, will take on Gene Darty, Rochester, at 160 and Babe Medwick, city, will enter the ring for the first time, against Bob Hyde, Slippery Rock, at 175.

Except for Leisure, Bradley, Gillespie and Clyde Wagner, Niles, who boxes Vic Kondish, Akron, at 135, all of the boys on the card are newcomers here.

The Jefferson A. C. is the promoter.

Protests Will Not Halt British Plan Of Clearing Mines

LONDON, Nov. 14.—An official British spokesman said today that regardless of Albanian protests, Britain will continue its mine-sweeping operations in the international channel of the Corfu Straits.

The government spokesman declared: "These mines are an international menace."

"Britain is carrying out an humanitarian task and any objections will fail to find sympathy of his majesty's government."

Gettysburg Favored To Upset Albright

READING, Pa., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Gettysburg College loomed today as the apparent favorite over the Albright "Roaring Lions" when the schools meet at Reading Saturday for the fourth time in the history of their grid relations.

The Albright squad will be gunning for their first victory over the bulls from the battlefield town, when they meet on the Lions' home field for the first time.

Must Be Sluggish

The latter bout is the one that really projected him into the heavyweight situation, although Savold is something less than a raging terror. He was an in-and-out when he was at his best. Yet he's another name on the list, which is impressive by virtue of the total rather than the calibre of men.

Jack Dempsey, the old man mauler who knows something about punching as a one-time devotee to that peculiar art of science, says: "Any man who can knock out a string of opponents can hit—and it doesn't matter if the victims are good fighters or just bums."

WOMAN TOSSED FROM BACK PORCH GRANTED DIVORCE
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Charging that her husband tossed her off the back porch, Winifred Wilt, 20, was granted a divorce from Charles L. Wilt by Judge Harry H. Rowan.

Mrs. Wilt said her trouble started when her husband went out with another girl and said he was going to a banquet. She added: "He started to beat me. He gave me a black eye and cut my lip. And when he finished beating me, he took me to the back porch and threw me over into the yard."

Almost 1,000,000 Will Be Dropped From Personnel Work By January 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(INS)—The budget bureau disclosed today that by Jan. 1 Army and Navy civilian personnel will be reduced almost one million from the figure on V-J Day.

The announcement came on the heels of demands by Republican leaders, who will control the next congress, for sharp economy in government operations.

A report prepared by Budget Director James E. Webb estimated that for the next quarter, beginning Jan. 1, a maximum of 892,600 civilians will be required for the military departments. This contrasts with V-J Day employment figures of one million, 843,122.

Health Director I. Hope Alexander said they can't be returned to patients, because they can't be sterilized.

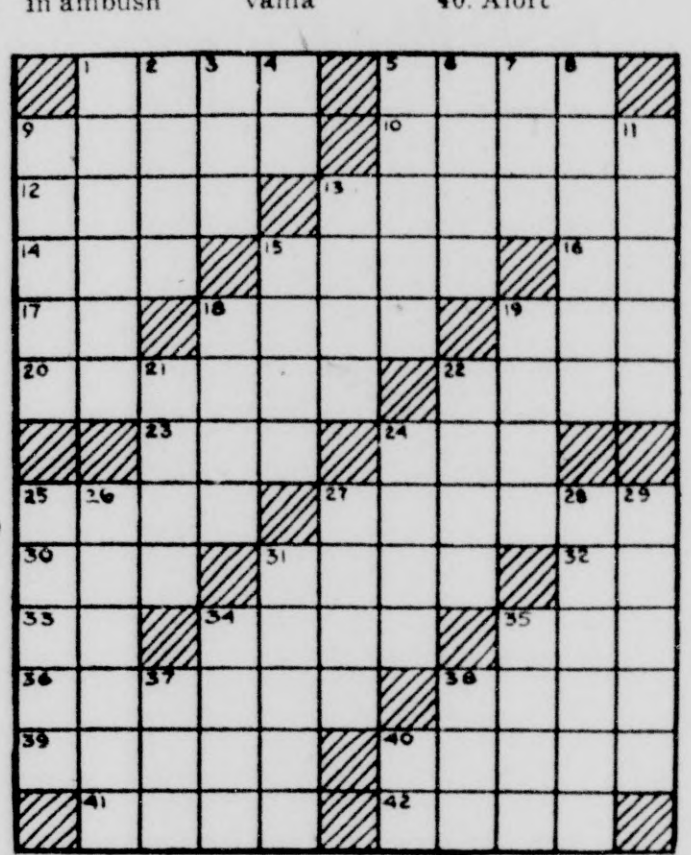

Councilman Edward J. Leonard said he understood there is a certain waiting list which "knocks them off."

So the council passed a resolution which will require Dr. Alexander to give the ultimate destination of the radios.
